The new University Center—the heart of campus activity

In the past four years the University has witnessed a dramatic face-lifting. Dreams have been transformed from sketches and blueprints into steel and concrete to meet the increasing demands of a constantly expanding student body.

To this expansion program, and the promising future which it offers Tulane, we, the staff, dedicate the 1960 JAMBALAYA.

The bowling alleys are in constant use.

The nervous smile of an apprehensive neophyte.

A year at Tulane is a succession of events and experiences. But each individual from blasé senior to uncertain frosh views these events through different eyes. Our purpose in this section, therefore, is twofold: to record the events of the year at Tulane, and in so doing bring to mind the personal experiences which you, and only you, remember.

If we are successful 1960 at Tulane will assume much greater significance and our efforts will prove well worthwhile.

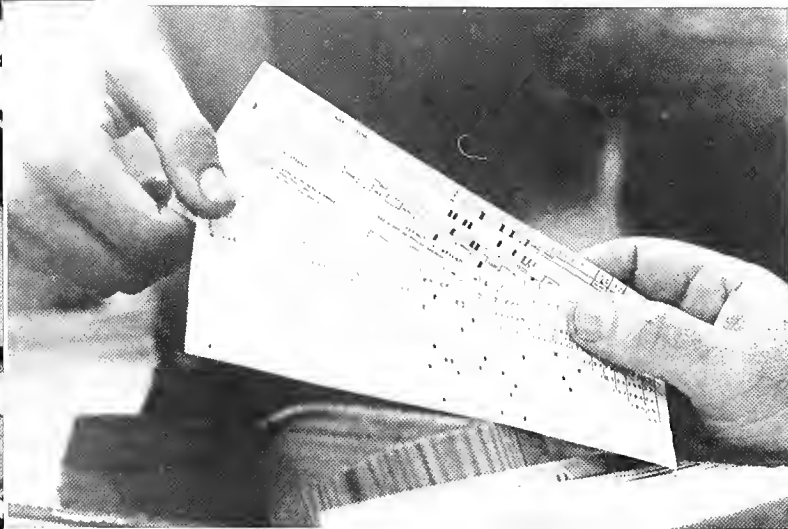

Arrival into the University World. The dorms are alive with activity and nervous energy. Big sisters and roommates are introduced while old friends meet and exchange summer talk. Herds of name tags and Greenie beanies tour the campus. This is all a part of moving in. The year is beginning.

REGISTRATION

A routine procedure to experienced upperclassmen as they methodically plot the course of another semester, but a bewildering and frustrating experience to the uninitiated. To all it is remembered as a hectic day of mass confusion, closed-out sections, and those long, long lines.

Raucous
Unbounded
Spirited
Hectic

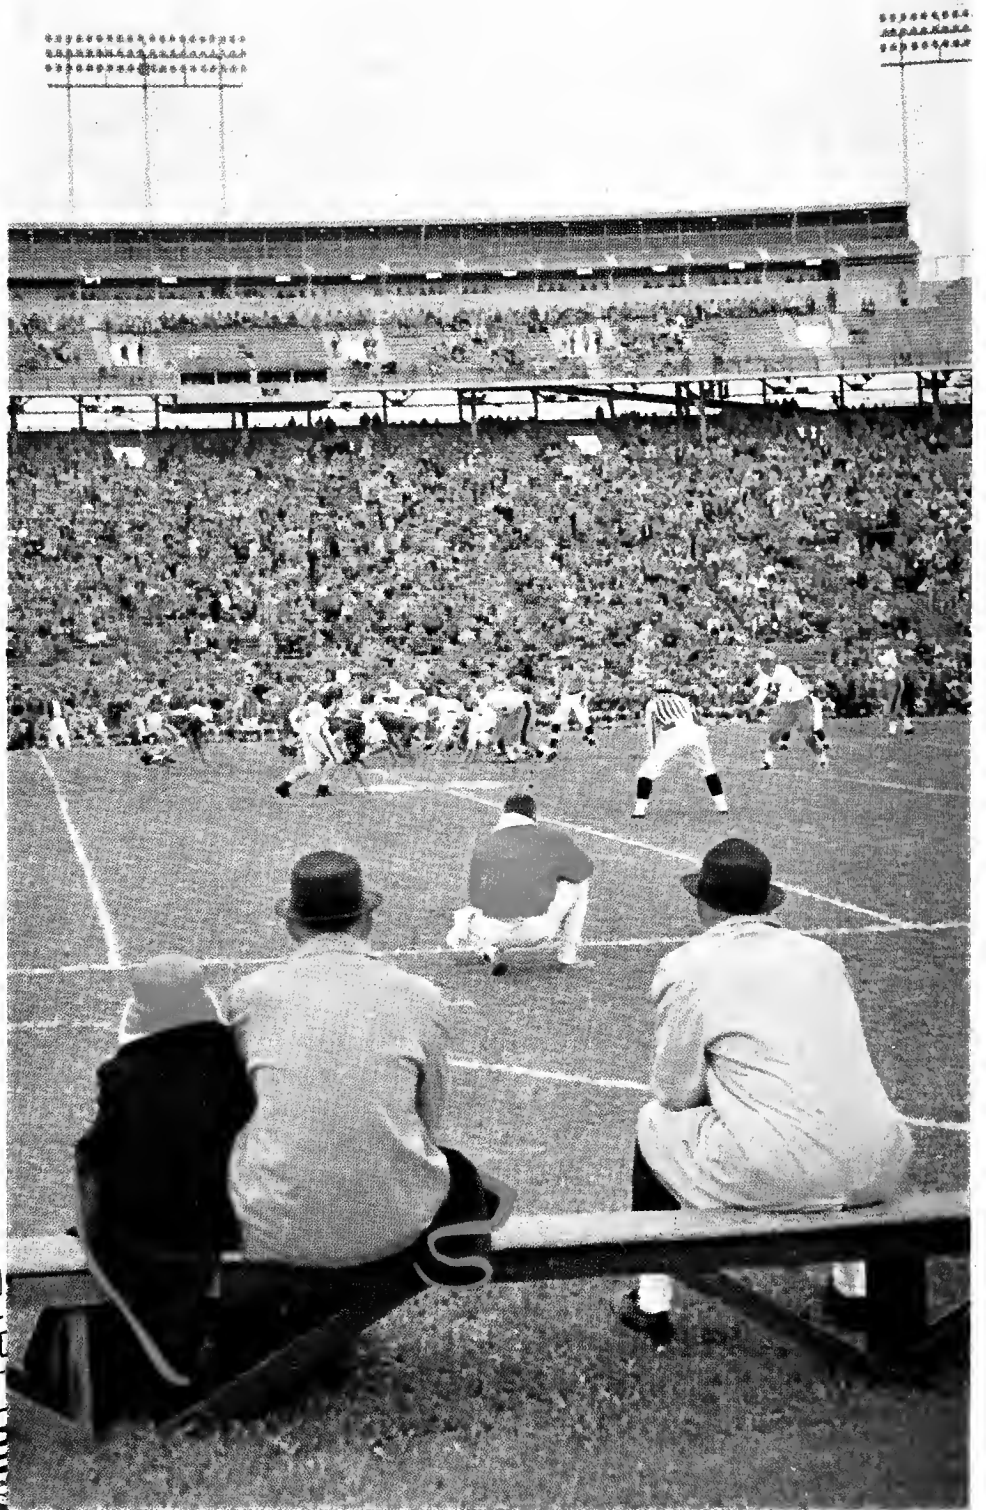

When the bell sounds, the walkways fill with students hurrying to and from class.

The hectic tempo of constant parties, meetings, smiles and handshakes quickens as the Greeks survey the freshman crop in search of potential pledges. Rushees live it up and soon decide that college life suits them perfectly. But, sadly enough, Rush ends as abruptly as it begins, and Monday morning at eight o'clock bleary-eyed students fight headaches, drowsiness, and a growing anxiety as they head for the semester's first class.

The Greeks put long hours into Homecoming decorations.

Autumn weekends mean football and all that goes with it . . . dates for the game and the walk to the stadium, the trips to Mobile and Baton Rouge, a colorful Homecoming, near upsets, and the familiar sound of our traditional "Hullabaloo".

Fourth quarter action in the thrilling season finale.

Though formals create a different atmosphere, the same partying mood is evident.

Weeks of planning precede the Architects' Beaux Arts Ball—an evening of unrestrained Bacchanalia.

When the week is over it's time for Bruno's and TGIF.

Casual Saturday night blasts are a popular method of letting off steam.

PARTIES

Although the game is over, the weekend is only beginning. It's partytime and there's one for every mood . . . TGIF, costume parties, after-the-game parties, festive formals . . . a wide variety to please the most discriminating.

A desperate line plunge is thwarted by an alert defender

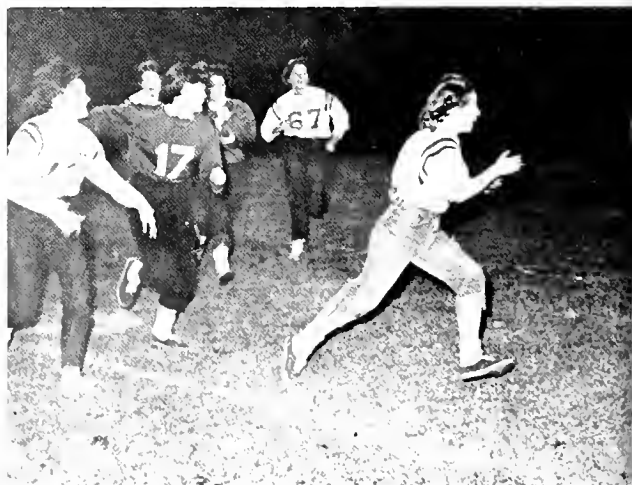

During the half, the coaches discuss strategy and deliver inspiring pep talks.

The dependable, hard-working water brigade serves to bolster team morale.

The juniors pick up valuable yardage on a tricky end sweep.

Subpoenaed freshmen voice their approval as the sentences are carried out on their convicted classmates.

season has descended upon the campus.

The Kingston Trio appears and packs the auditorium.

Basketball season is underway and studying seems more difficult than usual. Numerous excuses are readily available to ease the mind of the most sincere procrastinator—the ball game tonight, packing for the trip home, discussing plans for the holidays, and many, many more.

But the holiday spirit quickly disappears when the student returns and stands face to face with . . .

Basketball season begins, with the Greenies a title contender.

The long, lonely walk to the week's first exam

Sleep overcomes even the most sincere.

A semester's work must be reviewed and the time passes all too quickly.

A short cigarette break, then back to the books

FINAL EXAMS

The agonizing experience of cramming a semester's work into two short weeks and living on coffee, No-Doz, and cigarettes. Sleepless nights produce unshaven faces, towseled hair, and pitiful expressions as Tulanians and Newcombites drag themselves from one final to the next.

One minute till curfew and the end of another wonderful weekend.

Finals are over—the tension has eased, the pressure subsided. The social calendar explodes with a rash of spring formals, hayrides, beach parties, and beer blasts, capped by the dazzling spectacle of the New Orleans Mardi Gras.

Tulanians and Newcombites wind their way through the throng of Mardi Gras revelers for a colorful, uninhibited holiday.

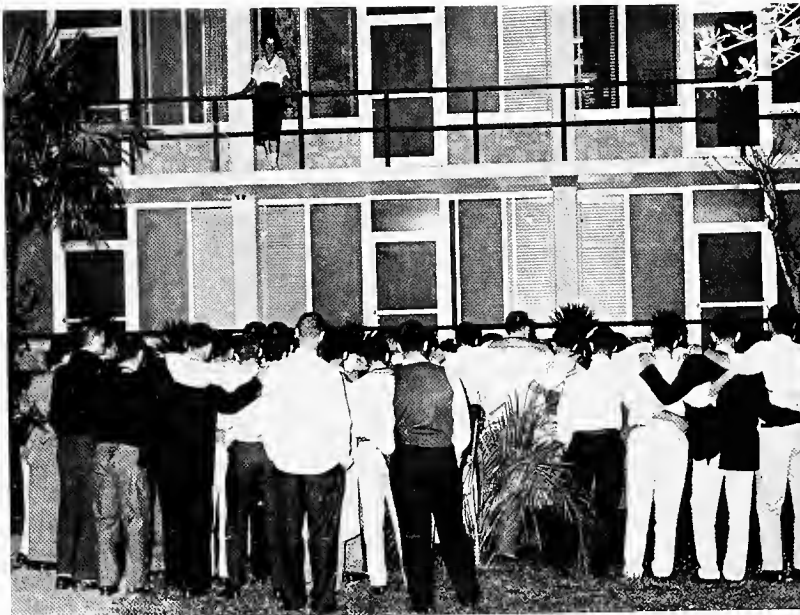

"Good night"

The quiet early morning atmosphere enhances the beauty of the campus.

Afternoons of idle chatter help to slow the pace.

Smitten Greeks lose hearts and pins to starry-eyed coeds.

Tennis rackets, bermuda shorts, rainy days, couples strolling hand in hand,—sure signs that spring has crept up on the campus. With it comes spring fever, daydreaming in class, and lazy afternoons with nothing to do. A wonderful time for relaxing, taking things easy and, perhaps, falling in love.

Decisions, decisions . . .

Parent's Day, when guided tours and lectures acquaint Mom and Dad with the functions and facilities of the University.

Spirited inter-sorority competition prevails at the annual Sigma Chi Derby Day.

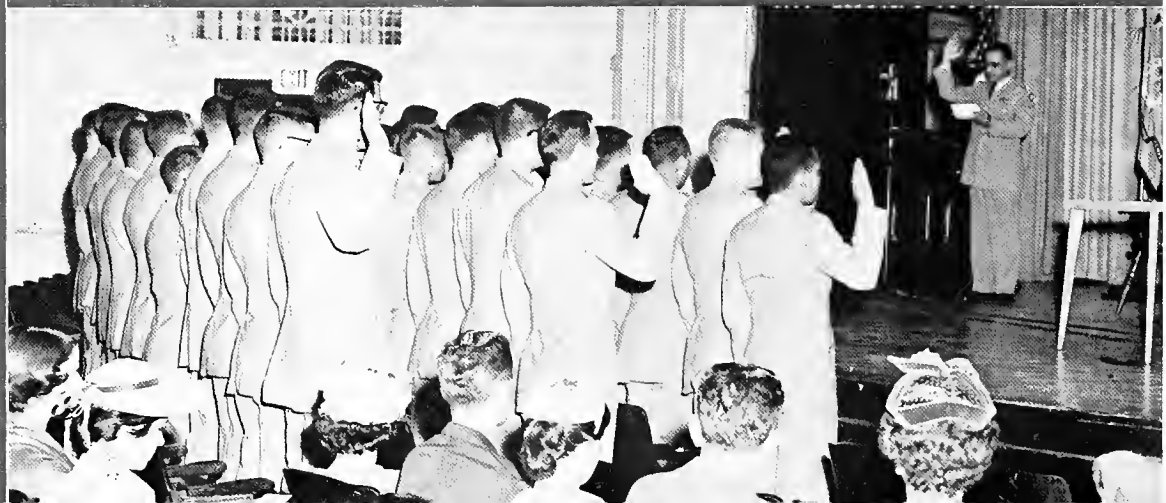

The traditional year-end activities bring with them a sober realization—time is growing short.

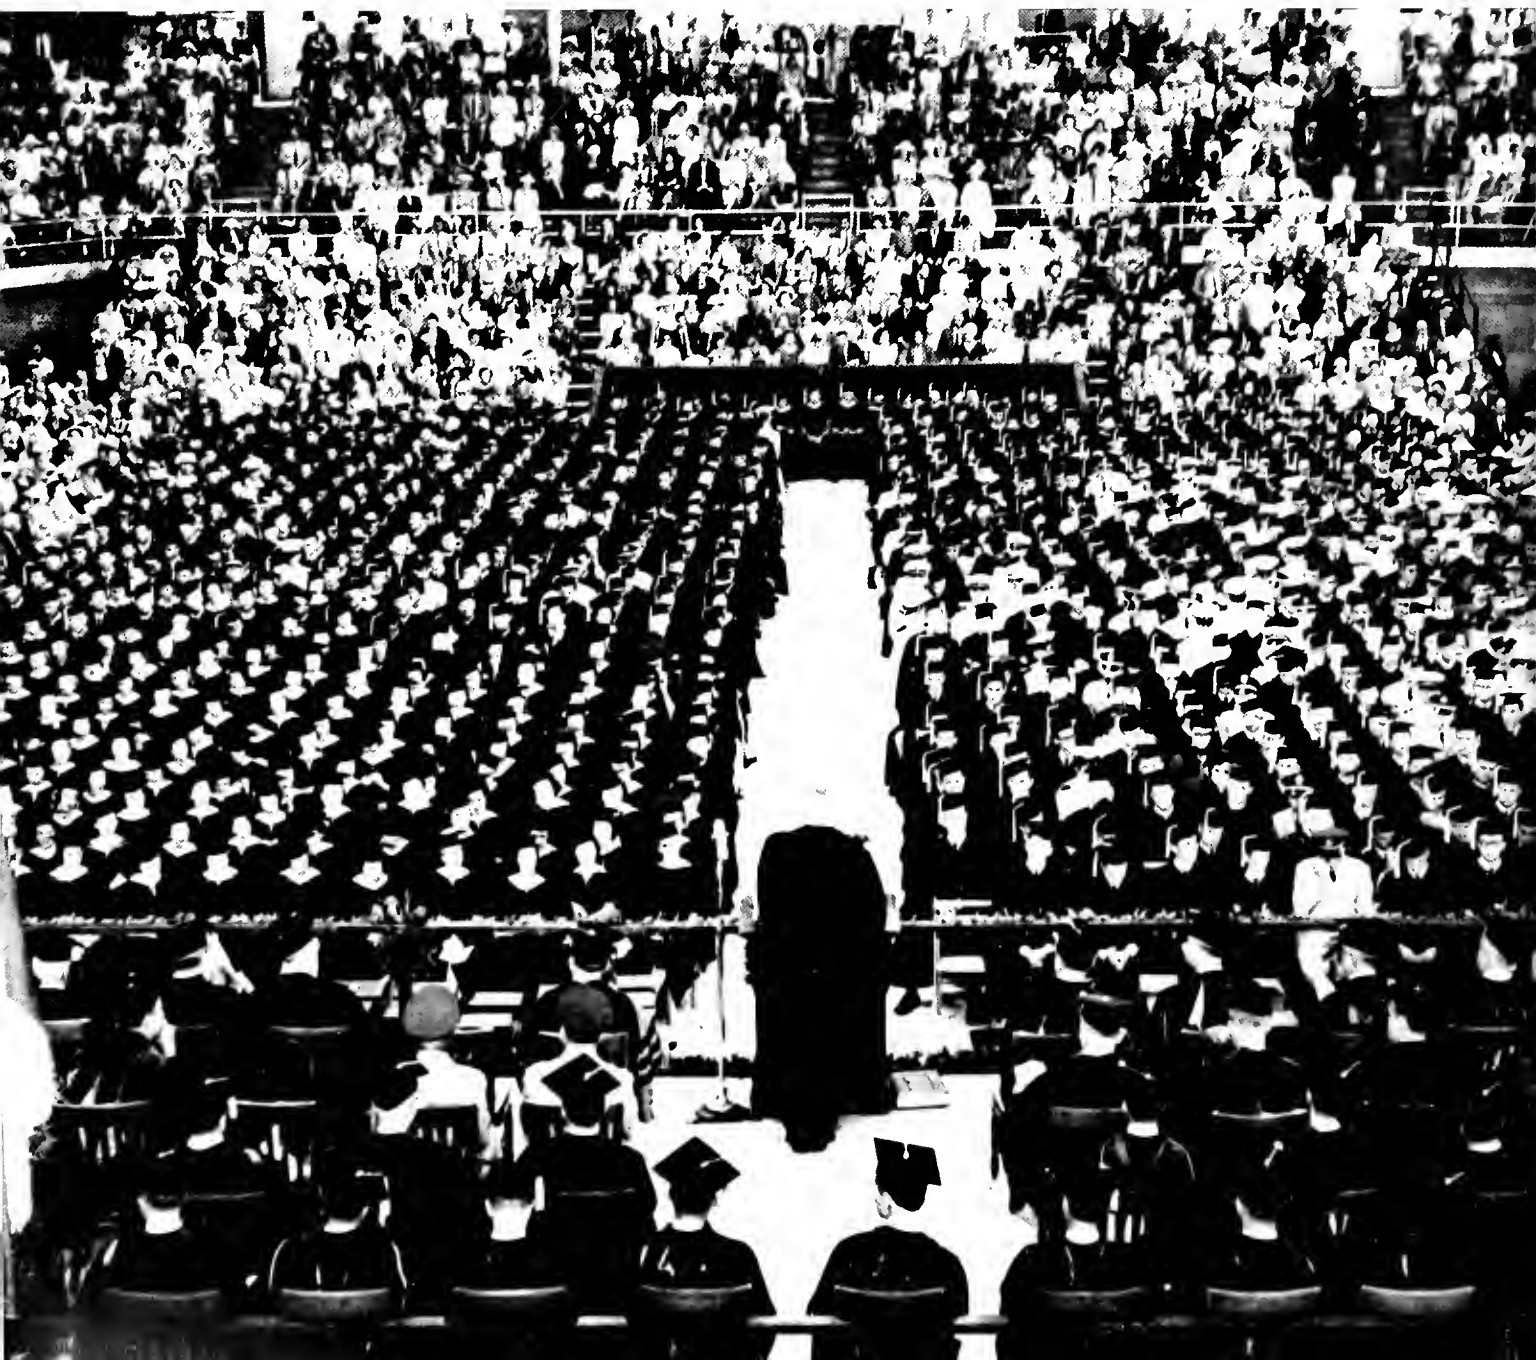

The last few weeks—a time of preparation and completion. For most they mark simply the end of another year, but for the class of 1960 they herald the culmination of their entire college experience. Ties and friendships must soon be severed and Tulane and college life relived only in fleeting recollections by we who were a part of it.

Rich in tradition is the New-comb May Day preceding Commencement exercises.

Graduating cadets accept the authority and responsibility of a military officer during the commissioning ceremony.

RUFUS CARROLLTON HARRIS

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Thousands have received degrees and congratulations from Dr. Harris during June commencement exercises.

In the JAMBALAYA of 1938, I stated that I had started my new duties as President of Tulane University under auspicious circumstances, and I expressed the hope that higher education may have a new grasp upon the South through Tulane University. Today Tulane may look back over the past 125 years with pride in her achievement. The intangible qualities of character have given her the standing she has attained. Our predecessors put into the University their great spirits, their high ideals, their determination to face reality, and imposed upon us the duty to help preserve their gifts. With that duty goes the obligation of guarding the privilege of free thinking, of free expression of truth, of free investigation of the problems that confront us. The entire university has been strengthened during the past two decades. While we take pride in our achievement and recognition, we must realize that we face a new responsibility in a new perspective. Tulane henceforth will be judged and we must judge ourselves by only the highest standards. Excellence is no longer our ambition; it is our obligation.

I shall leave the President's Office with the Class of 1959. With you I will sing that little known verse of the Alma Mater: "We praise thee for thy future, Alma Mater; the vista of its glory gleameth far. We shall ever be part of thee, great Mother; Thou wilt be where e'er thy children are."

RUFUS C. HARRIS

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATORS

Tulane University is a privately administered, non-denominational university governed by a self-sustaining board of 17 members, incorporated as the Administrators of the Tulane Educational Fund. The original membership was named by Paul Tulane, for whom the University is named, to receive and administer Mr. Tulane's gifts. The board is composed of prominent Louisiana citizens. In addition to the members, the Board consists of three ex-officio members including the Governor of Louisiana, the Mayor of New Orleans, and the State Superintendent of Education.

It is through the guidance of these administrators that Tulane is able to continue its outstanding work in research and educational service as well as all other phases of higher learning.

OFFICERS OF ADMINISTRATION

The day to day administration of the university affairs is directed by a group of officers, composed of Vice-Presidents, Deans, Directors, and others who are in charge of the various departments and divisions of the university. It is through the efforts of each of these that Tulane students are counseled, advised, informed, and serviced. The Tulane student can benefit much by advice from any of these because each is a specialist in his respective field.

The University is proud of these men and women for the essential part they play in the conduct of university affairs and for their dedicated work.

The advisor serves as a vital link between student and administration.

DIVISION OF STUDENT LIFE

I join with others in the Division of Student Life to congratulate the editors and staff of the 1960 JAMBALAYA on the production of this fine yearbook. The year it records has seen the focusing of many and diverse campus activities and services into the new University Center Building.

Within this first year the new Center has already contributed immeasurably to the vitality of student affairs and to the unity of Tulane campus life. We are pleased that the JAMBALAYA has shared in this development, not only in occupying the new offices arranged in the Center, but also in recording the impact of the University Center upon life at Tulane. The staff of this yearbook and the members of many other campus groups may feel proud of the part they have taken in getting the University Center well established this year.

The perplexing problems facing the college student find their answers behind these doors.

TULANE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Tulane Alumni Association was incorporated in 1898, dedicated to the broad principles of loyalty and service to the University and its Alumni. During the past sixty-one years it has grown from a few local alumni to a world-wide organization of more than 31,000 members living in each of the fifty states and in sixty-six foreign countries.

The Alumni Fund, inaugurated fourteen years ago, has provided $1,664,170 for the needs of the University.

The Association's other contributions to higher education have been equally important. The annual Tulane Conferences, presented by the Association and Alumni clubs, bring to many Southern cities, programs in the specialized fields of science, the humanities, law, medicine, engineering, social work, etc.

Other activities include Homecoming, reunions, local clubs and publications for alumni. The "Tulanian," alumni magazine, is sent free-of-charge to all former students.

The Newcomb Alumnae Association is composed of some 7,900 alumnae, graduates and non-graduates. The office is in the Tulane Alumni House where files are kept containing current addresses of former students. Clubs of alumnae are located in leading cities.

The Association has two national meetings annually, at Homecoming in the fall, and at Commencement in the spring. All former students are considered members of the Association.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The power of student government is vested in the Tulane Student Council, as stated by the Constitution of the Associated Student Body of Tulane University. The Student Council, which meets twice a month, is composed of the presidents and elected representatives from the ten colleges and schools of the university.

The principal duties of the Student Council are to represent the Student Body in all matters of student government, to delegate specific powers to organizations set up under the Council, to exercise financial control over the organizations and activities which receive University funds, and to act on all issues referred to Council by its boards and committees. Other duties are carried out by the various standing committees under the Student Council.

The Student Council delegates specific powers and duties to the Student Activities Board, the Publications Board, the University Honor Council, and the Student Union Board. Student Council officers head these Boards.

The officers of the Student Council form the student membership of various faculty boards, such as the University Senate, the Tulane Student-Faculty Committee on University Problems, the Athletic Liaison Committee, and others.

Through this wide range of both vested and delegated powers, the Student Council oversees all student activities and has representation in all faculty boards. In this way, the Student Council is better able to handle university-wide problems of student-faculty relations, parking problems, athletic affairs, student welfare, traffic control, and student organizations. The Student Council is, as its name implies, a council of students organized to serve the students.

UNIVERSITY CENTER

One of the most significant events of the year was the opening of the University Center. With the Director of the Center, Mr. Einar Pedersen, and a Board composed of eighteen students, a host of new activities and projects were offered for the first time to the student body.

While the building itself is a magnificent addition to the campus, the Center was not designed as just a beautiful structure. It serves as the community center of the entire University . . . students, faculty, staff, alumni and guests.

The University Center Board is composed of four executive officers and fourteen committee chairmen. It is their job to coordinate the varied projects undertaken by the committees.

In order to carry out this job, the committee chairmen not only attended weekly Board meetings, but also conducted their own committee meetings each week.

After the three-night interviews were held early in the year, approximately 500 students were placed on the various committees making this the largest service organization at Tulane.

Among the major activities of the committees were sponsoring amateur talent shows, a film series, art exhibits, forum discussions, operating the music listening rooms, staging water shows, coordinating International Relations Week, creating interest in hobbies and crafts, decorating the building for special occasions, holding the Homecoming Dance, planning Open House, and conducting guided tours of the Center.

Hundreds of questions are channeled through the information desk during the course of a day's activity at the Center.

TULANE INTER-HOUSE COUNCIL

The Inter-House Council of the Men's Residence Halls is composed of the president-at-large, the four dormitory presidents, and one representative from each of the four houses. The Council promotes school spirit in the Quadrangle by sponsoring such events as Quadrangle football decorations, an annual Christmas Dance, and a winter and spring olympics. The Council also functions as an appellate body for disciplinary problems originating in the individual dormitories. The Council consists of Lief Johnson, Jan Powell, Sam Gray, Lelon Hubbard, Jim Johnson, Vic Klinker, Jim Bortner, Prentice Smith, and Mike Rosenthal.

OFFICERS

NEWCOMB INTER-HOUSE COUNCIL

The Resident Student Government Association is composed of all residents of the dormitories, and its purpose is to develop an efficient system of self-government among them in all matters relating to the conduct of the members individually and as a social group. The duty of the Councils is to see that judicial decisions and legislative resolutions of the Association are carried into effect and to execute the decrees of the Inner Council in matters not covered by such legislative resolutions. The Inner Council has the power of making rules, of inflicting penalties, and of enforcing penalties to the degree which they find necessary. The success of the Association depends upon each individual member who is responsible for upholding its standards. By this, she is entitled to the privileges of self-government. The Council is composed of: Martha Bennett, Katherine Knolle, Ann Aucoin, Ilene Bock, Johanna Campbell, Nancy Fant, Sarah Hill, Jennie Barnett, Virginia Bass, Glenda Graham, and Jane Levy.

1960 will be remembered as the year in which Dr. Herbert E. Longenecker was appointed President of the University to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Rufus C. Harris.

In preparation for his new position, Dr. Longenecker toured the campus in early January. All who met with him were well satisfied with the Board's choice and are secure in the feeling that he will uphold the high standards of Tulane, as did his devoted predecessor.

Dean Stibbs introduces Dr. Longenecker to Tulane Student Body President, Jerry Horowitz, and Newcomb Student Body President, Charlene Podas.

Former president Rufus Harris and university provost Robert Lumiansky discuss school policies and projects with Dr. Longenecker.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

One of the outstanding medical schools of the world, the Tulane School of Medicine was established in 1834 to combat such early day killers as yellow fever and cholera. As one of today's medical research centers, national foundation grants allow the faculty and graduates of Tulane Medical School to carry on research in fields including cancer, mental illness, and heart disease.

Charity Hospital, Rudolph Matas Medical Library, the Bullpen, Hutchinson Memorial Building, and Richardson Memorial Building offer exceptional facilities to the Tulane med student, who otherwise occupies his practically non-existent spare time with thoughts of Ivy Day, the Cadaver Ball, Alpha Omega Alpha, "cadavers I have known," bedside manners, nurses, and visions of a title proclaiming tomorrow's healers.

HISTORY OF MEDICINE

The Tulane History of Medicine Society is the only University-sponsored medical organization. For over twenty years this organization has provided the medical student with an opportunity to learn the colorful heritage of his profession on a voluntary basis. Meetings are held twice each month. They feature historical presentations by students, faculty members, and selected guests.

The final meeting of the school year consists of an annual banquet. An outstanding guest speaker presents the annual B. B. Weinstein Lectureship Series lecture. At this banquet, three student awards are given for papers presented during the year. The awards are: The Rudolph Matas Award for the best paper, the I. F. MOOT COURT Justices of the Moot Court consist of junior and senior law students selected on the basis of scholarship. The Chief Justice and the Recorder are elected from the membership.

The board affords all students an opportunity to gain practical experience in preparing and arguing cases. Competition is on an elimination basis with student justices judging the preliminary rounds, the United States Federal District Judges, the semi-finals, and the Supreme Court Justices of the State of Louisiana, the finals. The Moot Court carries out its duties under the able guidance of Leon D. Hubert, Jr., faculty adviser.

TULANE LAW REVIEW

The "Tulane Law Review," a professional legal journal published quarterly, is the oldest journal of its kind in Louisiana. It is published by the students and faculty of the School of Law and emphasizes the study of comparative law. The "Review" contains scholarly articles by leading members of the legal profession and a student section, prepared by members of the Student Board of Editors, which deals with current legal problems. The Student Board of Editors is composed of honor students in the School of Law who have exhibited outstanding legal writing ability.

PHI DELTA PHI

The oldest professional fraternity in the United States is Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity, founded in 1869 at the University of Michigan. The White Inn at Tulane University School of Law was established in 1911.

The purpose of Phi Delta Phi is to promote the advancement of scholarship and professional ethics in law schools and among the profession at large. Members of this organization are selected on the basis of scholarship and ethics.

During the year the fraternity sponsors lectures by prominent members of the legal profession and presents an annual award to the second-year student whose grades reflect the greatest improvement. The national organization maintains an endowment fund for legal scholarships.

PHI ALPHA DELTA

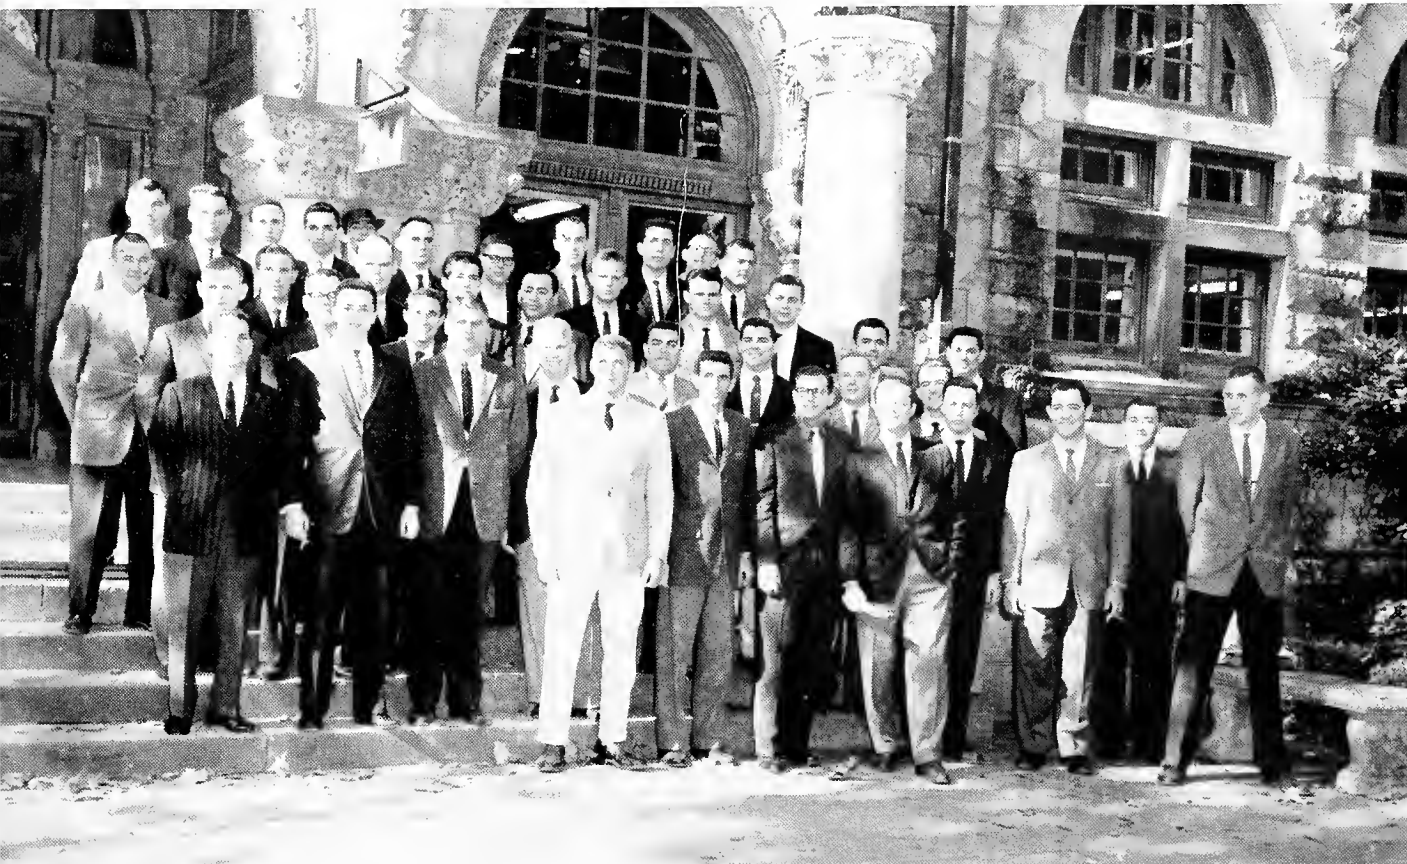

Phi Alpha Delta was founded in Chicago, November 8, 1902. The purpose of the fraternity is to develop a strong bond among the members of the different classes at the various law schools; to form a strong link between the schools and their former students; to establish a widespread exchange for the interchange of business, information, and matters of common interest to the members of the fraternity.

Phi Alpha Delta has more active chapters than does any other law fraternity. Its chapters are restricted to law schools accredited by the American Bar Association, a high standard peculiar to Phi Alpha Delta.

Three of its more prominent alumni are Chief Justice Fournet of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, Vice-President Nixon, and ex-President Harry S. Truman.

The fraternity cultivates a closer bond of friendship and the attainment of a higher and broader attitude than that offered by the regular college course; and fosters under the influence of intimate friendships, those principles that tend to form a higher type of manhood.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

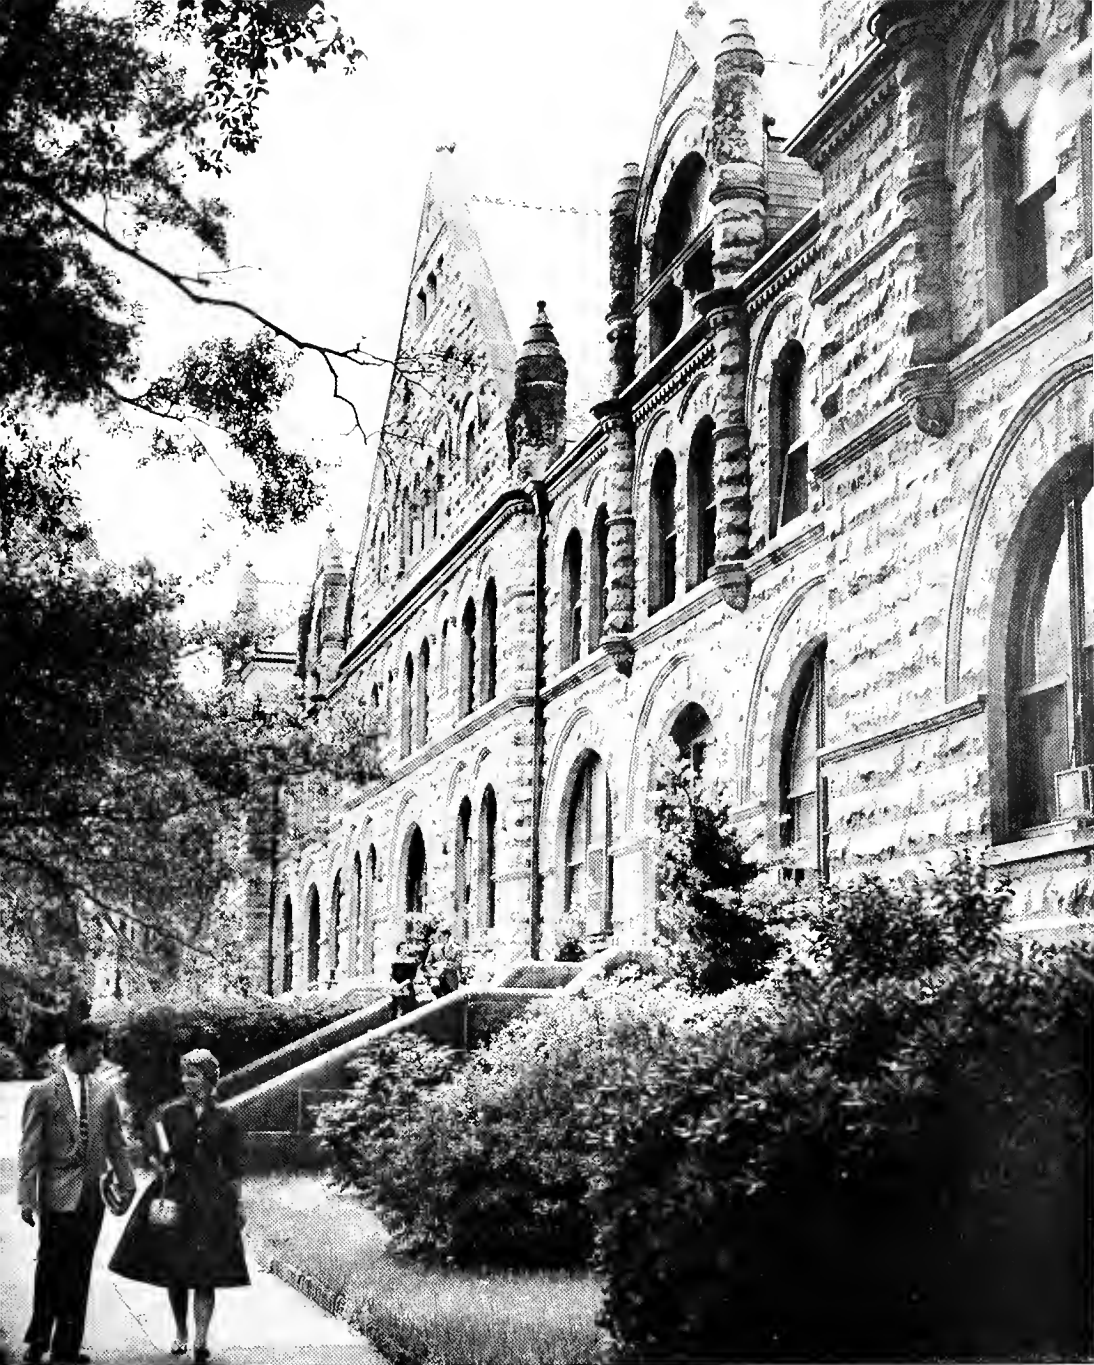

The College of Arts and Sciences, Tulane's liberal arts division for men, emphasizes the liberal arts curriculum as a sound preparation for general education and as a basis for specialization. A four-year program allows students to begin their training in such professions as law, science, journalism, and teaching, as well as in many other fields.

The largest and oldest College on campus, A&S is housed in Gibson Hall, whose corridors echo with the aims and expressions of its students: research papers, Phi Beta Kappa, Commencement Week, Faculty-Senior softball game, language honoraries, hard work and good times together.

Science labs give students a chance to put classroom theory into practice.

Whether the choice be arts or sciences constant application is required in order to keep pace.

PRE-MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Pre-Med Society was formed eleven years ago and today the society is the largest of its kind on the Tulane Campus, with a present membership of over 150. In 1957 the society adopted a new constitution to provide for the rapid increase in members. The Society convenes bimonthly to hear prominent medical authorities and to see informative movies dealing with medicine. This year, as in previous years, the society toured the Oschner Foundation Hospital, Richardson Medical Building and Charity Hospital.

In addition the Society is investigating the possibility of a nationalizing program and of service projects in hospitals. In keeping with the ideals of its original founders the Society by its achievements has stimulated faith and confidence in our potential doctors. It offers a sympathetic atmosphere in which the student will find help and encouragement in reaching his arduous goal.

PI LAMBDA BETA

Pi Lambda Beta was founded at Tulane in 1952 as a pre-legal society. The purpose of the organization is to promote a closer association and understanding between pre-law students. Meetings, social events, and semi-annual banquets enable members to become familiar with the Law School and its faculty, and also to gain a clearer picture of the various aspects of the legal profession by being brought into contact with prominent lawyers, judges, and law professors.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Eta Sigma Phi is the national honor classical fraternity. The three primary objectives of the organization are the encouragement of classical scholarship, the better appreciation of the Greek and Roman culture, and the increased fellowship and good will among classical students. Alpha Chi chapter of Tulane fulfills these objectives by the presentation throughout the year of lectures on classical subjects, by the point sponsorship of Saturnalia, the Classical Department's annual Christmas celebration, and by the general stimulation of interest in classical subjects. In addition, Alpha Chi chapter presents medals to the outstanding Greek and Latin students of the city each year and contributes to a national fund providing scholarships for classical study in Greece and Rome.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for pre-medical students. The Louisiana Delta Chapter was officially installed at Tulane in the fall of 1958. The object of the Society is to encourage excellence in pre-medical scholarship, to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of pre-medical students and educators in developing an adequate program of pre-medical education, and to bind together similarly interested students. During the past year meetings were held every other month, at some of which noted people in the medical field appeared before the group. Initiations were held in January and March, with the annual banquet being held at Kolb's Restaurant following the March initiation. A copy of Gray's Anatomy was awarded to the outstanding pre-medical student at Tulane. In April the Louisiana Delta Chapter sent its president and two other members to the Alpha Epsilon Delta national convention held at the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

Membership is limited to those students of political science who have taken nine or more credit hours in the field and have accumulated an average grade of "B" or better. Meetings are held about twice monthly, one meeting being a speaker or panel discussion which will be open to the public, and one meeting being a business meeting for members only. Meetings in the year 1959-60 included a speech on "Crime and Its Influence on the Political Situation in the Greater New Orleans Area" by Mr. Aaron Kohn, Managing Director of the Metropolitan Crime Commission of Greater New Orleans.

THETA NU

Organized in 1926, Theta Nu professional journalism fraternity strives for the furtherment of achievement in journalism and the development of student participation in the "Hullabaloo." Restricted to journalism majors who meet a required scholastic average, Theta Nu has in thirty-four years of activity seen many alumni leave Tulane to make their marks in the world. One who went afar, T. Hale Boggs, is today a member of Congress. Another, Quentin Ault, stayed close to home and is editor of the Tulane News Bureau. George E. Simmons, head of the journalism department, has been overseeing these and many other success stories in the role of faculty advisor since its inception. Highlights of the year come with the annual banquet and the awarding of the Reporter's Cup, given to the student most outstanding in reportorial achievement on the campus. Newly elected honorary members of Theta Nu this year include Dr. Walter Wilcox of the journalism department and Hodding Carter, editor of the Delta Democrat-Times and a guest lecturer in the journalism department at Tulane.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is a group of students within Tulane University who are interested in the subject of international affairs and have gotten together for the purpose of informing themselves about this important subject. In this day of the strategic atomic bomber and the ICBM it is very important that people learn more about the relations between the nations of the world.

The I.R.C. attempts to build an informed public opinion on campus by presenting speakers or panel discussions on topics of current or long-term interest. Anyone is invited to attend these meetings, which are held approximately every two weeks. In the past, meetings have included discussions of the Berlin crisis, the Cuban revolution, the Iraq revolution, and Japanese foreign policy.

NEWCOMB COLLEGE

Newcomb College, Tulane University's liberal arts division for women, was founded in 1886 by Mrs. Josephine Louise Newcomb as a memorial to her daughter, Harriott Sophie. The first college in America to be established as a separate school for women within a university, Newcomb attracts outstanding girls, not only from the South, but from the entire country.

Jail house, student recitals, art projects, dead week, Kangaroo Court, fire drills, bermudas at Sunday supper, and chimes every hour are all characteristics and scenes which for every Newcomb coed spell out individual accomplishments, individual memories, a feeling of growth and maturity, and loyal pride pledged to Newcomb College.

LA TERTULIA

La Tertulia was founded at Newcomb College in 1939. A group of active and enthusiastic students of the Spanish Department organized the club with the aim of establishing and maintaining a vital interest among students of Spanish. The primary inspiration of these girls was Ethelyn Everett, who became the first president. The colors are red and gold. The emblem is a gold key bearing a castle, symbolic of the Spanish language. The flower is the carnation, and the motto is "Siempre Adelante," or "Forever Onward." La Tertulia's goal is to maintain certain objectives throughout the year: to promote the practice of Spanish; to become familiar with the customs of Spain and Spanish America; and to thereby extend the hand of friendship and good neighborliness to our Spanish neighbors. New members are invited who have made an A in a lower level Spanish course, and an A or a B in an upper level course. This year a resolution to invite the new members after the start of the second semester, rather than in May was adopted. All Spanish professors of the College are granted honorary membership. This year's highlights include a Columbus Day Program, a traditional Christmas Party complete with pinata and Spanish Carols, and a celebration of Pan American Day and The Day of Cervantes in April. The year closes with a final banquet at which the officers for the coming year are announced.

BARRACUDA CLUB

The purpose of the Barracuda Club is to promote interest in synchronized swimming. The new members are chosen on their form, rhythm, and coordination in the basic strokes, and particular swim stunts. A competitive tryout is held in the fall, and old members of the club choose the new members. Meetings are held each Wednesday, at which time the Barracudas train in synchronized swimming. In the spring the club presents their annual water ballet at which time the new members become full Barracudas. The show this year was a gay, colorful theme on children's nursery rhymes and fairy tales. The Barracuda Club also sponsors the Newcomb Intramural Swimming Meet held in the spring. Miss Betty Campbell, in charge of the Newcomb Swim program, sponsors the group.

Many professional and social activities are conducted each year, and points are awarded in a national efficiency contest to those chapters which conform to standards set by the Central Office. Gamma Mu has led the way with 100,000 points since its founding.

The fraternity sponsors tours of local firms, conducts programs with prominent speakers from various fields, and promotes films and discussions about important topics from today's business world. Among the many social activities are the Rose Formal, at which the Rose of Delta Sig and her court are presented, the rush parties at the beginning of each semester, and a variety of other entertainment.

THE TULANE MARKETING CLUB

The Tulane Marketing Club was organized in the spring of 1957 as the campus affiliation of the American Marketing Association. Since then it has played an important role in acquainting the students of marketing with the opportunities and problems arising in the business world. Through numerous guest speakers representing companies noted for their contributions to the marketing field—such as Esso Company, Proctor and Gamble, U. S. Steel, WDSU-TV—they are able to develop sound thinking in marketing theory and a more exact knowledge of marketing principles and their practical application. Following the meetings are luncheons where the students are able to talk to the speakers personally, thereby allowing them to promote friendly relations with the business world. As campus affiliates of the American Marketing Association, the members are guests at the Association's monthly meetings; therefore enabling them to broaden their marketing knowledge and acquaintances.

GIRL'S COMMERCE CLUB

This small but vocal minority of females in the school of Business Administration made itself heard this year through the Girls' Commerce Club. The establishment of the G.C.C. replaces the national organization of Phi Chi Theta. This year the girls set a new precedent by crowning the King at the Business School Dance. They also met the faculty at the annual Christmas party, feasted themselves magnificently at a banquet, and wound up a happy and successful year with an Easter party.

STANLEY THOMAS HALL

The Tulane School of Architecture, the only fully accredited architecture school in a three-state area, has its training exemplified by the schools, homes, and better planned communities in the New Orleans vicinity.

Tulane Architecture students keep their minds on slide rules, nude models, sleepless nights, the Beaux-Arts Ball, Frank Lloyd Wright, Thomas Hall exhibits, blueprints, Tau Sigma Delta, and contributions to better living in the South and in the nation.

DEAN JOHN W. LAWRENCE

Architects attempt to outdo each other with elaborate costumes at the Beaux Arts Ball.

Mechanical Engineering Building

The Tulane School of Engineering—offering study in chemical, civil, electrical, and mechanical engineering—provides both graduate and undergraduate with an educational program including liberal arts and the combination of science and engineering. Many engineering developments of special concern to New Orleans have been pioneered by the School. The principal objectives of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers are to broaden the student's acquaintance with the practical side of mechanical engineering and to meet the men engaged in this field as a profession. To accomplish these objectives, the Tulane student branch holds monthly meetings. Aside from the normal run of business at the meetings, speakers from industry come to lecture. To complement these meetings, field trips out into industry are made to see how the modern industry of today operates. This spring the Tulane student branch held the Regional Convention at the new University Center. Eight schools from Texas and Louisiana participated. The convention ran for three days during which seminars were held on various subjects. On the final night the student technical papers were presented. The winning paper was presented at the Inter-Regional Convention.

The Tulane University Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers serves as a link between the engineering student and industry. Through this relationship it strives to develop a closer association between the student and the professional engineer.

The purpose of these associations is to expose the student to those problems encountered in the field by practicing engineers which cannot be adequately covered in undergraduate study.

The Tulane Joint Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers provides the college student with a more realistic view of the engineering profession. Through the Student Branch organization, the students become acquainted with professional engineers in the surrounding areas. The organization keeps the students informed about current developments in the engineering field and provides a gain in knowledge of the operation of more recent devices. Being a student organization, it puts the bulk of the responsibility of its operation on the students. All of these functions aid in developing the members as professional engineers.

Founded in 1908, the American Institute of Chemical Engineering maintains over one hundred student chapters in colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada. The Tulane Chapter is organized in an attempt to better familiarize the student with the professional as well as the technical aspects of his chosen field. Members are afforded the opportunity of learning the specific phases of chemical engineering from talks by scientists and engineers in industry, educational movies depicting various processes, and field trips to nearby plants. Each year the local chapter sponsors the trip to the A.I.Ch.E. Southern Regional Convention, held on the campus of a member school.

JAMBALAYA BEAUTY FINALIST

One of the JAMBALAYA staff's most pleasant duties is to select a group of sixteen girls to compete for the title of Miss Pauline Tulane. With the exception of freshmen and those who have previously served in the court, any Tulane or Newcomb girl is eligible. After the nominees have been selected, the student body chooses Miss Pauline Tulane and her court of six maids. The identity of the winner remains a secret until she is presented in the spring.

There are several girls in school this year who have served in past Jamb Beauty Courts. They are: Lee Andry, Charlotte Blotner, Barbara Burdin, Letty Goltry, Virginia Jones, Sarah Quinn, Harriet Stone, and Pat Van Scoy.

HOMECOMING

Preparation for Homecoming begins long before the weekend itself. Pep rallies in anticipation of the Tech game, party planning, and the selection of the Homecoming Queen and her court all take place well in advance. This year's selection of Judy O'Brien as Queen and Charlotte Blotner, Mary Ella Burke, Letty Goltry, Virginia Jones, Diane Orkin and Harriet Stone as maids of the court met with the whole-hearted approval of the student body.

The celebration began Friday evening with an Alumni Dance at which the Queen and her court were presented to the returning alums. Fraternities, sororities, and dormitories were colorfully decorated the following day and the old grads dropped in for open house, buffet lunches, and blasts which lasted until game time.

The partying mood received added momentum from the exciting football game and traditional halftime ceremony and the weekend reached its fun-filled climax later in the evening at the Homecoming Dance.

The fabrication of elaborate displays adds to the color and excitement of the Homecoming weekend.

The last dance of a wonderful weekend.

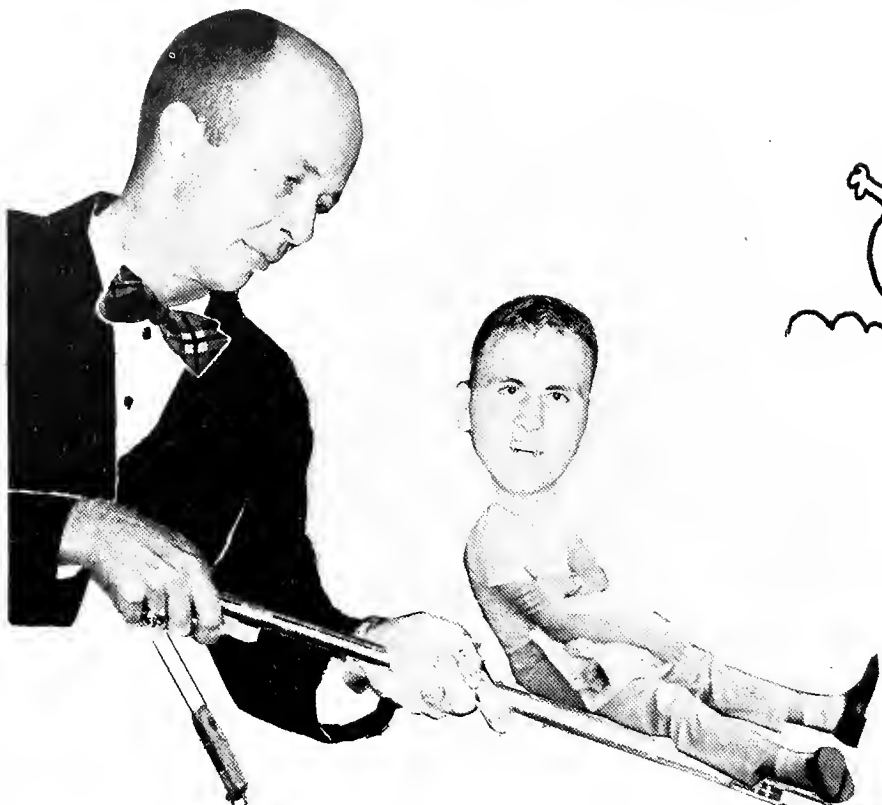

MARDI GRAS WEEKEND

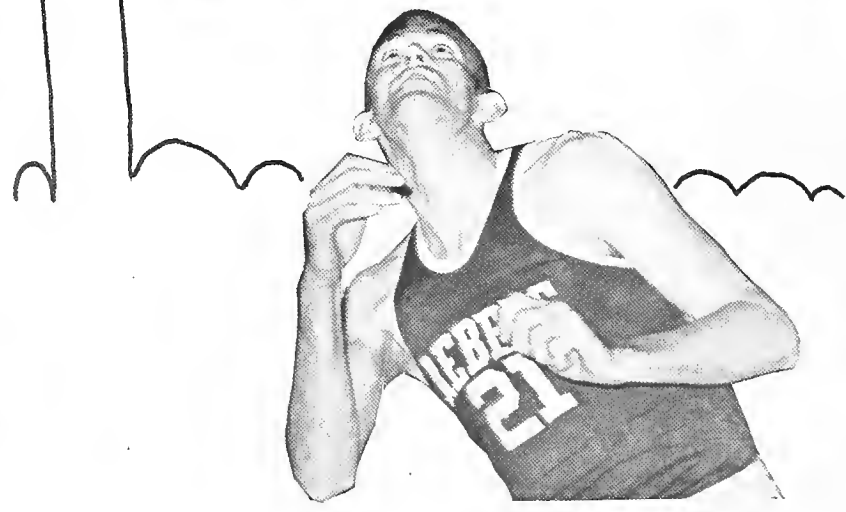

Confetti . . . black jack . . . stacks of hay! Tulane students saw all this and more at Tulane's first Mardi Gras weekend, sponsored by the University Center Board under the direction of the Special Events Committee.

The Louisiana Hayride dance held in the Cram Room ushered in the festivities. Students danced to a rock and roll band in a barnyard atmosphere of rafters, hay, nailbarrels, saddles, chaps, old tires, and a still.

A jazz concert, Saturday afternoon, February 6, was sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee, and featured "The Last Straws," who played to students in a cafe atmosphere of red-checked cloth-covered tables, and refreshments were served by waitresses.

Highlighting weekend festivities was "Monte Carlo Night" and the presentation of Tulane's first Mardi Gras Queen. The student center halls were converted to streets found in the French Quarter—Bourbon Street, Royal Street; the rooms throughout the building were variations of French Quarter night spots—Sam O'Briens, Pier 4 $\frac{1}{2}$. Students took their choice of dancing to Latin American Music, Sentimental Music, or Rock and Roll. Each student was given fake money as he entered, and could use it to gamble at the dice, black jack, and roulette games played in the halls. Prizes were awarded to those who won the most money. The casino props obtained from Harold's Club in Reno and the gambling activities were sponsored by the Games Committee. It's safe to say "a good time was had by all."

The ten Assets are selected on the basis of leadership, scholarship, school participation, loyalty, service, and school spirit. The names of these new members are announced at the last Newcomb Student Body meeting of the year. Members of Assets begin their sophomore year as "Big Sisters" to the new students throughout the orientation program in the fall.

Assets also plans and coordinates Kangaroo Court held for the wayward freshmen who have disobeyed restrictions or regulations. The Assets serve as ushers for May Day, the first Newcomb Student Body meeting, memorial services, and various other school functions. The members also distribute to every girl in Newcomb a notice of Student Body meetings. A traditional spring banquet is given by the newly-elected Assets to the outgoing sophomore members.

1960 JAMBALAYA

Here is the culmination of months of planning, designing, picture-taking, sorting, filing, and captioning—the 1960 JAMBALAYA. To you, the reader, it is no more than a pictorial review—a history of the year at Tulane. Its success is measured in terms of the enjoyment which you receive in reliving the experiences which have been recorded.

To the staff, however, it presents a wonderful feeling of accomplishment. In its finished form the Jamb gives meaning to our endless hours of preparation when we should have been studying for that gruesome test or could have been enjoying a beer and a card game.

But now the Jamb is out and those gruelling races with the ever-approaching deadlines and the brow-beatings of a frustrated editor can be forgotten. When looking back all that will be remembered are the censored captions, the occasional office parties, the crew from second floor J.L., the mistletoe, the editor's window perch, and all the other essential incidentals which were as much a part of the JAMBALAYA as the book itself, but which will be shared only by those who helped to make your yearbook a reality.

Associate Editor Neal Mangold and Assistant Business Manager Kenny Heller confer.

Section Editors John Unverzagt, Linda Hardy, Earle Cefalu, and Dave Lewin ponder the fate of another caption.

Charles Berk, Business Manager

The satisfied smiles of a successful sales campaign.

Matching costs against revenue for the entire school year is the overall objective of the JAMBALAYA Business Staff. This delicate balance is constantly imperiled by the Editor's insatiable desire to spend more money, but preserved by the Business Manager as he attempts to keep the Jamb within its financial bounds.

The usual result of these feuds is compromise; the Editor promises to cut down expenses and the Business Manager promises to secure additional revenue through increased advertising.

This year's staff has worked hard, not only selling ads, but also in pushing yearbook sales in order to guarantee the financial success of the 1960 JAMBALAYA. It is hoped that you, the readers, derive as much pleasure from your Jamb as we did in furthering its publication.

WTUL

WTUL, the Tulane University carrier-current broadcasting station, was conceived in 1959 within the music committee of the University center. The Tulane University Amateur Radio Club also became interested in the project and many heated discussions soon evolved regarding which group should sponsor the station, should it be formed. The University solved the problem by stating that neither group should control WTUL, but it should be an organization independent of any other activity and answering only to the Publications Board and the Student Council. Soon after its formation WTUL was confronted with personnel, financial, and technical problems which were quickly solved by an alert staff. Advertising sales mounted and the station is now completely self-supporting. All station construction was done by the station's technical staff and WTUL now has facilities equal or superior to many commercial stations.

WTUL programs music, news, and sports to all Tulane and Newcomb dormitories and to the University Center. The programming department, under the direction of Allan Hewett, constantly strives to provide top quality music and news coverage.

As a medium for entertainment and information, WTUL Radio has become an important part of campus life.

HULLABALOO

It's Tuesday evening, the one good typewriter clicks noisily and copy editors nervously scratch out Bodoni bolds as the tyrant editor lowers the boom—it's always the same. New faces, new headquarters—three spacious rooms in the University Center—and a new year, but the harrowing "Hullabaloo" hubbub continues as staffers dash to meet the deadline.

In the midst of the confusion, level-headed editor Max McCombs and money-making business manager Lenny Hoffman put their heads together to balance ads and the books.

Columnist Alan Guma rushes out to see what's going on as Newcombite Joanne Medoff scans instant news to determine the foreign outlook and feature-writer Patsy Sims treks about getting a candid picture of the campus. Meanwhile, Lois Coplan and Cathy Carroll have campus bloodhounds out trying to track down one more feature story.

Dashing in with blinking eyes from flash-bulb shock is photographer Mike Marvins with an exclusive shot of Nellie Newcomb in pantaloons. Feverously biting their fingernails are managing editor Allan Katz and Toni Middleton, Associate Editor, as they ponder the mountain of unedited late copy.

Will they make it? Surprisingly enough they always do. In fact, this year, one of the paper's boasts, besides the big rooms and lousy typewriters, was a 12-page special Christmas edition.

TULANE STUDENT DIRECTORY

The University Center was not the only innovation on campus this year—the Student Directory, in addition to containing all full-time students' names, local and home addresses, telephone numbers, year and school, and all the campus organizations, broke from the traditional cover design. This year's cover featured a modernistic impression of the U.C. Another first for the Student Directory was the use of the IBM, and the inclusion of departmental listings and the Tulane-Newcomb Junior Year Abroad.

THE WAVE HANDBOOK

The "Wave," the University handbook, is primarily for the benefit of incoming students. It contains pertinent information, both academic and social, which is needed to introduce these students to Tulane and help them find their way around. This year, under the direction of Editor Edgar Hull and Associate Editor Ann Loughridge, the "Wave" added sections on the University Center and on local points of interest. The handbook has been brightened by Carroll Durand's clever art work and a series of photographs of campus scenes.

CHEERLEADERS

Hullabalooing their way through the 1959-60 sports year, the Cheerleaders, together with the student body, showed real spunk in backing the underdog Green Wave. Wearing the traditional green "T," the Cheerleaders travelled to Miami, Oxford, Mobile, and Baton Rouge cheering the team on the road as well as on home grounds. As in the past the cheerleaders have proven to be leaders on the campus as well as in the stadium. They were outstanding members of TUSK and Greenbackers, and active in many other facets of campus life.

Heading the group this year was Don Munson. He was ably assisted by veterans Phyllis Alexander, Nelson Becker, Marilyn Meyer, Lynn Orkin, and Jack Webb and newcomers Ron Shenberg and Beverly Bretz.

GREENBACKERS

Greenbackers is the oldest spirit organization on the Tulane-Newcomb campus. Members are chosen on an honorary basis based upon their interest in school spirit, school activities, and upon their willingness to work. The members of Greenbackers are representative of all the fraternities, sororities, and independents on campus. In the spring, Greenbackers honored its new and old members with an informal party which turned out to be a huge success.

During the year, Greenbackers was in charge of planning and promoting pep rallies, made up and distributed spirit slogans before each home football game, and also decorated the goal posts. Among other various service activities, Greenbackers participated in Campus Carnival and presented plaques to the seniors on the basketball team at the end of the season.

TUSK

The Tulane University Spirit Club is an honorary spirit organization composed of members elected by majority vote of the active membership of the club. The organization's main desire is to foster better school spirit throughout the school year.

TUSK was responsible for pep rallies, bonfires, the shaker section at the Georgia Tech Game, chain telegrams signed by all the students sent to the football team when it played out of town, as well as publicity posters for various campus-wide activities during the first semester. The party for TUSK members and their dates was a great success. Second semester found TUSK members participating in Campus Carnival, various services designated by the Student Council and the Student Activities Board, and promoting spirit for the basketball season. It is to the effort of these students that the school spirit at Tulane can be attributed.

Circle K exists as a character-building group which offers service on the campus, to the school, and to the community. Organized internationally in 1952, membership now numbers nearly 5,000 throughout the United States and Canada.

Tulane Circle K, born in 1955, has taken an active part at the International convention and helped to spearhead district organization. This year in early October the group printed and sold "instant" directories of all dorm students. The group provided entertainment and games at a children's detention home in New Orleans and placed prayer cards on the tables of the University cafeteria. Circle K strives to carry out projects which develop individual maturity in its members and provide service for others.

INTER-FAITH COUNCIL

The Inter-Faith Council of Tulane University is the official channel of communications between the recognized religious organizations of students at Tulane, and the University. It is composed of two representatives from each of the ten organizations, and the presidents and the chaplains from the groups. Designed to carry out certain functions for the benefit of these groups and the University, it has proven to be the place for the exchange of practical ideas and experiences in such areas as provision of accurate, adequate news coverage of the activities of the various groups in the "Hullabaloo" and other papers; facilitation of cooperative endeavors of adult advisors and youth leaders in planning joint religious programs.

The Council is responsible each fall for arranging the University religious orientation program for freshmen and new students. A meeting of all freshmen and transfer students is held to introduce them to the religious organizations of the campus.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Among the many things brought by this school term was the first year of service by our new director, Rev. George Fezell. He assumed duties here following his graduation from Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. A highlight of the fall was the state B.S.U. convention, held this year in Baton Rouge, with L.S.U. as host. A most enjoyable and profitable week-end was had by those attending. Another annual event enjoyed this year was the Streetcar Caroling Party. Some fifty students packed on a streetcar from St. Charles Baptist Church to make a tour to Canal Street and back, singing all the way. Informal dinner parties on Friday nights proved to be a big success throughout the year. Mrs. Sproles, our popular housemother, was responsible for the fine food served then and also after chapel. Special weeks in the daily chapel programs included Spiritual Emphasis Week in December and Focus Week in March. Dry Creek was, again this year, the big talk during the spring. A large group of students represented Tulane and the New Orleans area for the week-end retreat.

BETHANY FELLOWSHIP

The Bethany Fellowship was formerly the Disciples Student Fellowship. With the acceptance of this new name, we were able to make more young people feel a part of the organization. This group consists of the young people attending Tulane University and Newcomb College, those attending various nursing schools as well as youth who are of college age working or in some branch of the Armed Forces. The organization meets at the St. Charles Avenue Christian Church, 6200 St. Charles Avenue, each Sunday morning and evening as well as at various times throughout the week. Several times each month discussion groups are held at the Church with cake and coffee served during the social hour which follows.

CANTERBURY ASSOCIATION

Canterbury Association serves the mission of Christianity in higher education by fostering among university people a more mature understanding of the faith and practice of the Episcopal Church and loyalty to its corporate life.

The program of the Canterbury Association centers at the Chapel of the Holy Spirit. Sunday and daily worship are the most important activities at the Episcopal Center. Three student discussion groups meet regularly: Canterbury Forum (undergraduates), York Forum (graduates), and a Medical School Group. Classes for in-quirers are held weekly. Social functions have included Sunday night suppers, as well as parties and dances. Several students attended both the Diocesan and Provincial College Conferences. A Teaching Mission was held in the fall, and a series of religious plays was presented by students in December. The Center is open and is used daily for informal as well as scheduled activities. Increased participation by the over seven hundred Episcopalians on the campus has made necessary building enlargement this year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FELLOWSHIP

Christian Science Organization at Tulane University has had a very active and fruitful year.

Activities started in September during Orientation Week when a breakfast was held for both old and new members. Following breakfast, the group attended church together.

A "Let's Get Acquainted Party" was held early in October at which everyone had a wonderful time. During the year, the Organization has sponsored two lectures for the university community on Christian Science given by members of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christian Science in Boston, Massachusetts. Both lectures were well attended and quite successful.

Christian Science Organization actively participated in the Religious Emphasis Day held during the first semester. A display of the various writings of Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and various Christian Science publications such as the world-wide daily newspaper, "The Christian Science Monitor," was made.

A party for alumni and members was held during the 2nd semester. Both alumni and members were pleased to have this opportunity to get to know one another.

Throughout the school year Regular Testimonial Meetings were held every Thursday night while the university was in regular session. These meetings were the nucleus of Christian Science Organization activity on campus this year and were both enjoyable and helpful to all those who attended.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Ushered in by a religious orientation which took a large segment of the local Jewish community services, the 1959-60 program of the Tulane B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation has developed into a broad design covering the areas of religion, culture, social, social welfare, and interfaith.

Sabbath services were held each Friday evening and Saturday morning, and other holidays were appropriately celebrated. Students serving as readers, cantors, and often even delivering original sermons were responsible for the student-oriented religious services.

Talks by outstanding speakers, round-table discussions, special movies, and Bible classes featured the Sunday programs. Each of three Hebrew classes met weekly to study the ancient-modern language presently used in Israel.

The socials included a fellowship buffet after culturals, and dances and parties in celebration of joyous festivals.

To their less fortunate brethren here and overseas, the Hillel members responded most generously. Many local, national, and international charitable, religious, and cultural agencies benefited from their efforts.

Interfaith activities included active participation in the Tulane Interfaith Council and several special programs designed to encourage better understanding between students of all religions.

Events held by the Newman Club include Holy Masses, communion

breakfasts, college-level courses in theology and philosophy, dorm discussions, the John Henry Newman Forum in Catholic Thought, a winter and a spring formal, truckrides, casual parties, a frankfurter feast for international students, and weekly meetings. TULANE UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Tulane University Theater (TUT) is an organization composed of those persons who have successfully participated in two of the four major productions offered by the Tulane University Theater Department. All members of the university student body, faculty, and staff are eligible to participate in any phase of the productions, either as members of the cast or crews.

From the graduate program came the directors for the 1959-60 season which included "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams; "The Would-Be Gentleman" by Jean Moliere; "The House of Bernarda Alba" by Fredrico Garcia Lorca; and "The Playboy of the Western World" by John Synge. In addition to these, there were two series of one-act plays given at the end of each semester, and several dramatic readings.

Plans for next year include productions in a new, well-equipped arena theater situated in the new Theater and Speech building. The plant will include offices, classrooms, rehearsal and dressing rooms, as well as the modern shop. The organization will increase its public offerings from four productions to between six and eight each year.

CAMPUS NITE

The Campus Nite production of 1960, entitled "Down to Earth," was once again the rewarding success it has been in the past. The chief honors this year go to Mike Parver for his fine work as author and director, but credit is also due Kenneth Train, president; Mr. Einar Pederson; Mr. Louis Berndt; and the entire Campus Nite staff who worked behind the scenes as well as on the stage to give Tulane a top-notch musical comedy.

In the eleven years which have followed its first performance, Campus Nite has become a tradition in the production and presentation of a completely original musical show. The script, music, sets, and costumes are all products of the skill and hard work of Tulane and Newcomb students.

This year's show, "Down to Earth," told the story of a young scientist who discovers a way of making statues come to life. In the ensuing scenes, he found himself escorting a contingent of Roman dieties on a wild tour of New York City. He became involved with leprechauns, love affairs, chorus girls, and beatniks, all of which produced amusing situations that provided a wonderful evening's entertainment for the many who attended the show.

And then the statues came to life.

OPERA WORKSHOP

The Opera Workshop consists of students interested in all phases of music theatre. It is the youngest organization in the Tulane-Newcomb choral groups and has presented in its short existence scenes from the standard operatic repertoire and many operas that are not often included among professional opera organizations.

In their first production of the year, the Workshop presented "The Old Maid and the Thief," a chamber opera in fourteen scenes by Gian-Carlo Menotti. Additional presentations of other operas followed later in the year.

All workshop productions are presented in the auditorium of Dixon Hall, and the scene shop is located directly across from the stage wing.

GLENDY BURKE

The Glendy Burke Society is the oldest student organization on the Tulane campus. It was organized to allow freer expression to those students who had previously won the Glendy Burke Prizes for Oratory and Mathematics.

Glendy Burke sponsors the debating team which participates in college debate tournaments throughout the Southern states. The group also sponsors high school and college forensic competitions on the Tulane campus.

Besides these regular activities Glendy Burke sponsors visiting speakers and debaters from other schools in public debates or forum discussions and encourages student participation in individual contests such as extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and interpretative reading.

Drawing its membership from all colleges of the university, the Tulane University Band is known as one of the finest concert bands in the South. During the football season, the band adds color and spirit to the games with a vast repertoire of music ranging from Latin American to Dixieland jazz.

During the basketball season, and for pep rallies, a smaller Pep Band supplies the necessary musical background.

But the chief purpose of the band is to perform on the concert stage and twice annually, at Christmas and in the Spring, the band presents concerts.

Spreading the name of Tulane to high schools throughout the South, the band travels to various sections of Dixie during the spring giving concerts in selected cities.

CONCERT CHOIR

The Concert Choir is comprised of forty students of Tulane and Newcomb. The activities of the choir this year included singing with the Newcomb Choir at the Orleans Club for the Stewart Clan, and entertaining at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Roosevelt Hotel. Several tours were taken, including a spring trip at Eastertime to Texas and New Mexico, and a weekend tour of Mississippi. Tentative plans were made for an European trip to be taken this summer, with the choir being sponsored by the United States Army. ARMY R. O. T. C.

Under the guidance of Lt. Colonel John W. Fueg, USA, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and Captains Gordon K. Fleischman and Albert R. Knight, Assistant Professors of Military Science and Tactics, the Tulane unit of the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps again enjoyed a successful year as a top R.O.T.C. unit.

The Army R.O.T.C. consists of a four-year program, leading to commissions in the United States Army and Army Reserve for those cadets who meet the strict but reasonable requirements. For the cadet who plans to make the Army his career as well as for the cadet who plans to serve only six months or two years, the R.O.T.C. program offers training in leadership and command which will benefit him in all endeavors in later life—civilian or military.

At the end of the year, the juniors prepared for a rigorous training period at summer camp at Fort Eustis, Virginia. The graduates, having left behind them four years of training, were ready to assume the responsibilities of their rank. Their preparation for positions in the defense systems of the United States had been the responsibility of the Tulane Army R.O.T.C. It was now their duty to apply their training, just as it will be the responsibility of the officers who will be trained here at Tulane after them.

NAVAL R. O. T. C.

For twenty-one years the Naval R.O.T.C. unit has been fulfilling its mission of supplementing the United States Naval Academy in providing officers for service in the Navy and Marine Corps.

Academic training for both programs, Regular and Contract, is supplemented by summer training cruises aboard Navy ships, training at Naval Bases, or Marine Corps Schools.

Sandwiched between the Welcome Aboard Ball in the fall and the Farewell Ball in the Spring the unit's activities are many and varied. Lectures, labs, drill, and convocations serve to instruct the Middies in "the Navy way." And contending intramural teams, dressed in the Navy blue, display drive and determination in all forms of intramural competition, displaying the unit's pride in the Naval R.O.T.C.

AIR FORCE R. O. T. C.

The 320th detachment of the Air Force R.O.T.C. takes great pride in the role it plays in the preparation of future Air Force officers dedicated to the service of their country.

The Air Science curriculum is designed not only to acquaint the cadet with the history, technology, and national policies concerning aviation, but also, through leadership training, to cultivate within the individual qualities of leadership, discipline, and the desire for personal achievement which will fully enable him to assume his duties as an officer and citizen of his country.

The program provides opportunity for the cadets to participate in orientation training flights which help to acquaint them with the operation of aircraft. Seniors in the pilot category may obtain their private pilot's license through participation in the Flight Instruction Program. Lessons are given by private instructors at Air Force expense.

To complete their military education, cadets enrolled in the Advanced course undergo training at a regular Air Force base during the summer between their junior and senior year.

Social and athletic events round out the schedule, forming an intrinsic part of the program. Two military balls are held annually, along with base visitation and field trips. AFROTC athletic teams consistently place high in intramural competition. Last year the Sabre Jets, the precision cadet drill team, won the intramural drill competition among the Army, Navy, and Air Force units.

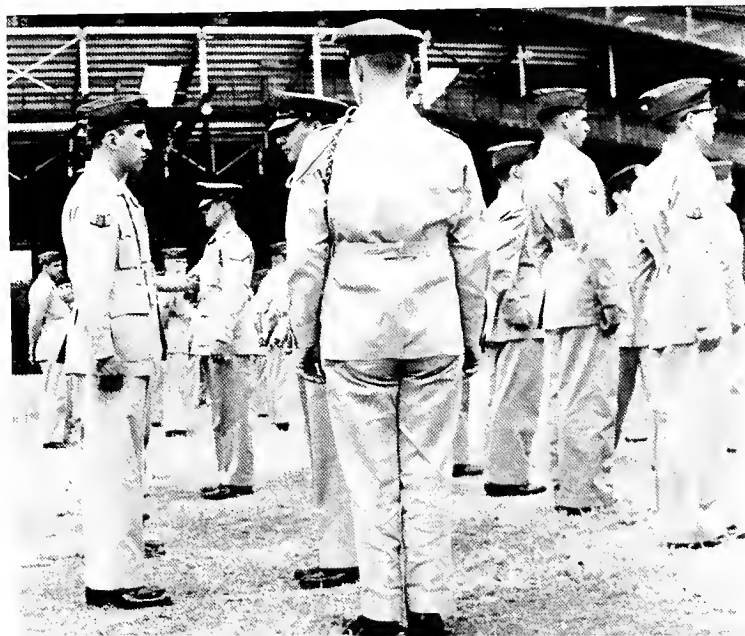

In keeping with the program, cadets practice walking on air.

It is necessary that the cadet learn to execute commands, before he assumes the responsibility for issuing them.

"Next time, stand a little closer to the razor, mister."

Lt. Col. John B. O'Rourke, Professor of Air Science.

And so ends another drill.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

E Company, 8th Regiment is one of 160 companies which form the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, an honorary military society. On the Tulane campus, the society is comprised of elected Army, Air Force, and Navy R.O.T.C. cadets who became eligible for membership by exhibiting outstanding military bearing in their respective units and by maintaining a satisfactory overall scholastic average.

The purpose of the Society is to unite in closer relationship the military departments on the Tulane campus, to preserve and develop the essential qualities of good and efficient military officers, and to prepare cadets to take a more active part in the military affairs of their communities. Above all, Scabbard and Blade attempts to present intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

The Arnold Air Society is a nationwide Air Force R.O.T.C. honor and service organization. Members are chosen from the advanced cadet group on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service. The primary mission of the squadron is to closer coordinate the functions of the Cadet Group to those of Tulane University, the local community, and the United States Air Force.

In order to carry out this responsibility, the squadron sponsors and promotes the extra-curricular activities of the Group besides assisting the local Boy Scouts and Civil Air Patrol. The society also promotes better "esprit de corps" in the Cadet Group. This year the group took as its project the placement of a permanent Air Force Monument on Tulane's campus.

Members each year receive a subscription to "Air Force" magazine and participate in a low premium life insurance policy. In addition, members are eligible for two Arnold Air Society Link Fellowships valued at $1,500 each. Several social events were held during the year. Outstanding among these were the Spring Barbeque at Lake Ponchartrain and the party honoring the departing Senior cadets after the Air Force Military Ball.

1960 FOOTBALL

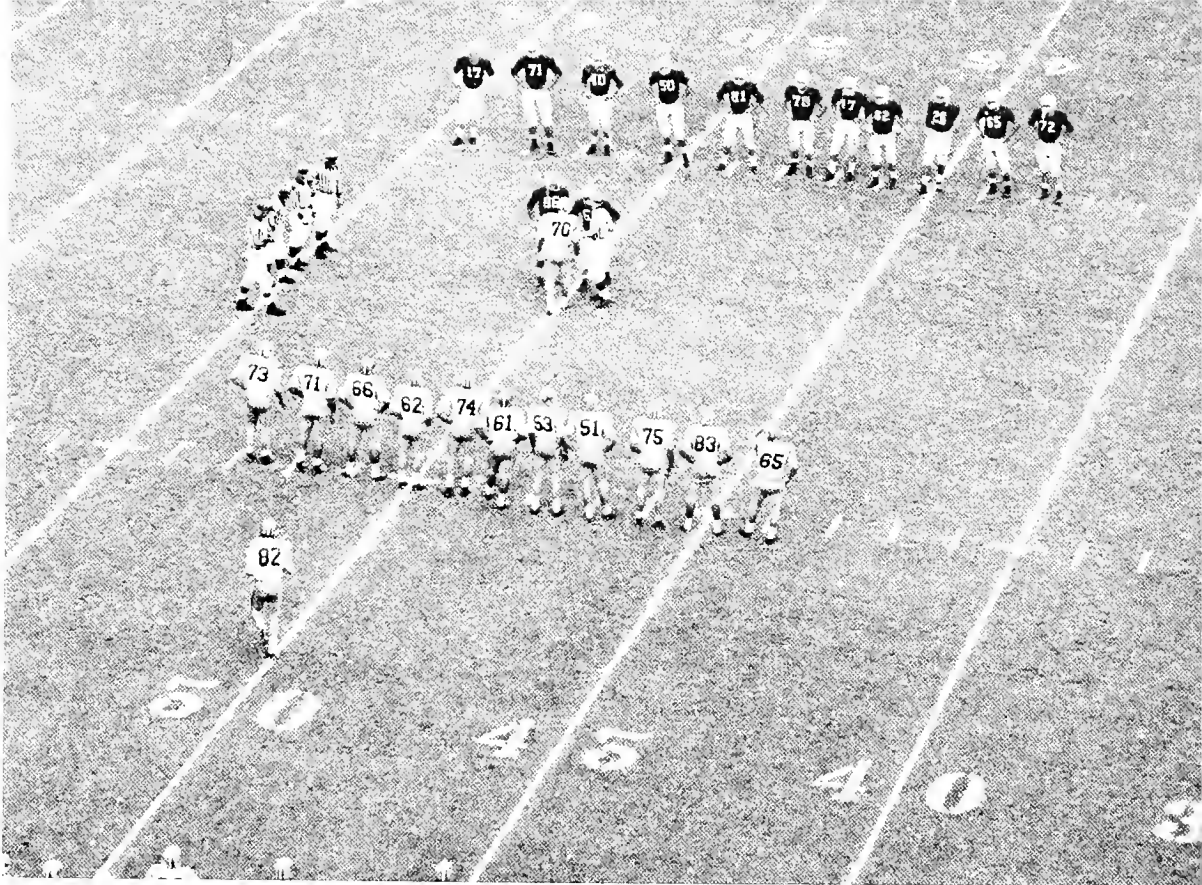

The 1959 Green Wave football season provided Tulane fans with plenty of excitement and action. The Wave managed to compile a record of 3 wins and 1 tie against 6 losses. After dropping the opening two games to Florida and Miami, the Greenies broke into the win column with successive victories over Wake Forest and the University of Detroit. Then the Wave journeyed up to Oxford to meet the mighty Rebels of Ole Miss, and became the first team of the season to score on the Rebels, leading briefly by the score of 7 to 0. The Mississippians roared back, however, and demolished the Wave's brief winning streak by the score of 53 to 7. Returning home the following week, the Greenies led nationally ranked Georgia Tech for three quarters before bowing 21 to 13. The next week in Sugar Bowl Stadium, Tulane defeated the Red Raiders of Texas Tech, 17 to 7. Many Tulane fans then traveled to Mobile and saw the Wave drop one to the Alabama Crimson Tide of Bear Bryant, 19 to 7. Returning for their last home game of the season, the Greenies tied Vanderbilt on an overcast day, 6 to 6. In the season finale the team went to Baton Rouge. The Greenies outplayed the defending national champions of LSU, one of 4 bowl bound teams to defeat the Greenies, for most of the game, but lost to the Tigers by the score of 14 to 6. With 17 returning lettermen, including backfield stars Terrebonne and Mason, and the excellent recruiting this past year, prospects are indeed bright for many seasons of exciting football for Tulane students and fans in the near future.

TULANE 0 FLORIDA 30

Florida's more experienced Gators managed to take advantage of the very green Greenies' mistakes and ruined the 1959 season opener for the Wave. A large crowd in the Sugar Bowl saw the young Tulane team make a good showing for the first two quarters, only to falter in the second half. The first break of the game came toward the end of the first quarter when the Florida safety man fumbled a Greenie punt on his own 25-yard line. The Wave was unable, however, to capitalize on this as they then fumbled on the Gator 15. The two teams then fought to a stalemate in the center of the field until shortly before the half, when Florida scored on a short pass play. The Gators kicked for one extra point. With six minutes left in the third period, the Wave managed to get a ground drive going, but it was stalled on the Gator 40-yard stripe. In the fourth quarter, repeated fumbles and pass interceptions stopped any Wave offense before it could get started and demoralized all Tulane defensive efforts. The veteran Florida squad pounced on every break and managed to run the score to 30 to 0 before the game ended.

Gators close in on Nugent's option.

Young grabs one in Gator secondary.

The sideline tension is often more dramatic than the game itself.

In their second outing of the season, the Greenies travelled to Florida for a game with the Hurricanes of the University of Miami. It had been a long time since the Wave had crossed an opposition goal line and they were looking for a victory. The high point of the game for the team and their followers was in the second quarter when Pete Abadie, who would end the season as one of the SEC's leading receivers, made a sensational catch in the end zone of a pass from Tulane quarterback Bob Cornett. Thus ended the Greenie's scoring famine. Hopes for a victory, however, were crushed by the talented passing of the Miami quarterback, little Fran Curci. In spite of good defending on the part of frantic Greenie backs, he managed to hit his ends consistently for good gains. The Wave offense was unable to mount another scoring drive and they returned to New Orleans and the friendly confines of Tulane Stadium on the short end of a 26 to 7 score.

TULANE 7 MIAMI 26

A small but fiercely loyal band of Greenie followers were rewarded by seeing the Wave upset a favored group from Wake Forest by a score of 6 to 0. The game was exciting from the start, as in the opening few minutes Tulane halfback, Terry Terrebonne, broke into the clear and was headed for a touchdown when he collided with one of the officials. The Greenie kicking game was at its best and the Wave line was a stalwart of defense. When Tom McClellan scored on a fullback draw play in the third quarter, it seemed to bring life into the thus far listless Deacon attack. Twice the Deacs drove to a first down inside the Tulane five-yard line only to be held by the Greenie defenders. In this game, for the first time, the Wave showed a balanced attack with a good ground game to go with the already potent air arm. The passing of Nugent and Cornett, the kicking of Magee, and the strong running of Terrebonne, Mason, and Kisner, along with good end play by Young, Gamble, and Abadie, had Wave followers leaving the Sugar Bowl Stadium well satisfied with the fine showing of the young Wave squad.

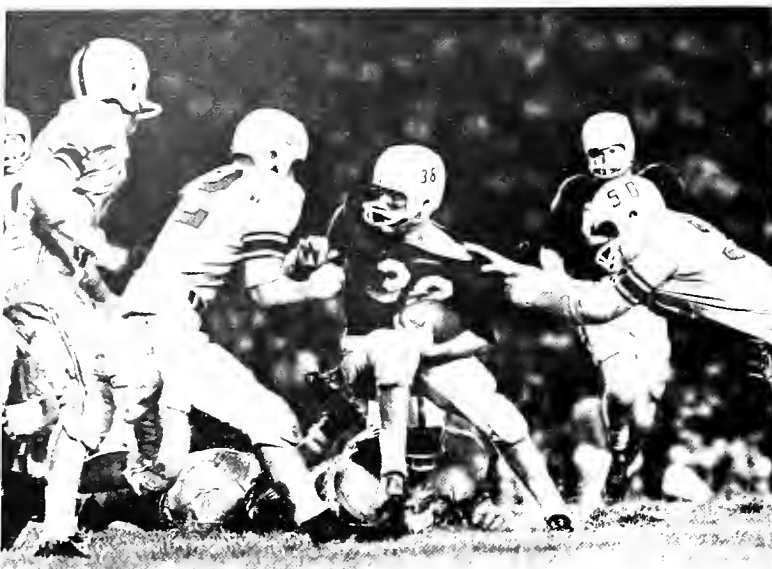

Receivers covered, Cornett elects to run.

TULANE 25 DETROIT 0

A crowd swelled by the presence of many Boy Scouts from the New Orleans area witnessed the coming of age of Tulane's sophomore sensation, Terry Terrebonne, against the Titans from the far North. After a scoreless first quarter, Terry streaked fifty yards in the opening minutes of the second period for the first Tulane tally. A few minutes later the crowd was dazzled when Howard Kisner reeled off a 40-yard run to the Detroit 18. A Greenie fumble halted the drive on the Detroit one. Later in the period, after having two touchdowns called back, Cornett tallied from the Titan four on a keeper. Both teams were held scoreless in the third stanza. With two minutes remaining in the final period Tulane ground out another score. Following the kick-off Detroit was forced to punt, and two plays later Vance Strange scooted 34 yards on a keeper for the final Greenie score.

Price outsmarts Detroit safety.

Going gets tough against bowl-bound Rebels.

TULANE 7 OLE MISS 53

The scoreboard shows the calm before the storm.

TULANE 13 GEORGIA TECH 21

The Tulane homecoming crowd witnessed one of the finest home showings by a Green Wave squad in the past few years. Rebounding from the Ole Miss game, the Greenies poured it on the nation's number five team. Early in the second quarter Phil Nugent made the most of a recovered Tech fumble by going into the end zone on a keeper from the 7-yard line. The conversion failed and Tulane led 6-0. In the third quarter, after George Guillot intercepted a Yellow Jacket pass, Nugent passed to Mason who ran through and over the entire Tech squad on a 50-yard play. This time the point after attempt was good and Tulane led 13-0. It was then, however, that Dame Fortune turned her head and the wonderful bubble burst. Tech mounted a scoring drive after Magee had punted from deep in the end zone and made the score 13-7. Later a 6-yard Greenie punt set up a second Jacket drive, and the scoreboard read Georgia Tech 14—Tulane 13. Late in the game Tech intercepted a Greenie pass and scored once more. For three quarters the Greenies played like conference champions, but in the final period the lack of reserves took its toll.

Engineer on the wrong track.

Riding on the crest of two straight victories, the Green Wave ran into the Mississippi Rebel football powerhouse. The game started brightly with the Greenies recovering a Reb fumble and then becoming the first team to cross the Mississippi goal line. Infuriated, the Rebels then unleashed a devastating attack. With Charlie Flowers and Jake Gibbs leading the way, the Rebels scored at least twice in every quarter and made the final score 53 to 7. Tulane managed to mount a drive on the strength of Nugent's passing arm, but time ran out in the first half before they could score again. This was their last serious threat. The Rebels had set their sights on the SEC and National titles and were determined not to let the Greenies deny them. We simply couldn't cope with the Rebels' three teams, great speed, and stonewall defense.

Quick opener closes quickly.

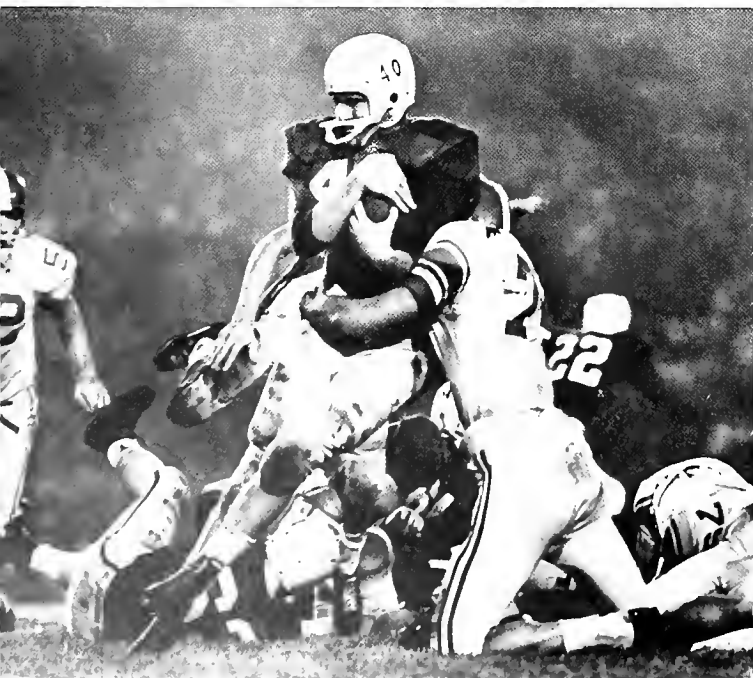

TULANE 17 TEXAS TECH 7

Eighteen thousand fans watched Tulane breeze past the Red Raiders from Texas Tech. Tulane missed many scoring opportunities in the first half through fumbles and dropped passes. Tech marched 60 yards for a score the first time they got their hands on the ball. In the closing minutes of the second period, the Greenies took possession of the ball on their own 13. With Cornett and Nugent alternating at the quarterback post, they moved to the Red Raider 16 where Cornett tossed a touchdown pass to Abadie. About this time a heavy fog settled over the field becoming so thick that it was hard to distinguish players. Midway in the third period Tulane mounted a drive when Connie Andrews intercepted a Tech pass on the enemy 29-yard line. The Wave couldn't move past the 16, however, so Kisner booted a field goal, making the score 10 to 7. After an exchange of punts, the third quarter ended with Tulane on the Texas 36. In moving the ball down the field the officials made an error and placed the ball on the 26. The Wave was unable to capitalize on the break; their attack bogged down on the two-yard line. On the first play Tech punted out, and the Greenies took over on the 27. Four plays later Nugent hit Mason with a pass in the end zone. Kisner again converted, and the game ended with Tulane on the long end of a 17 to 7 score.

Raiders raided.

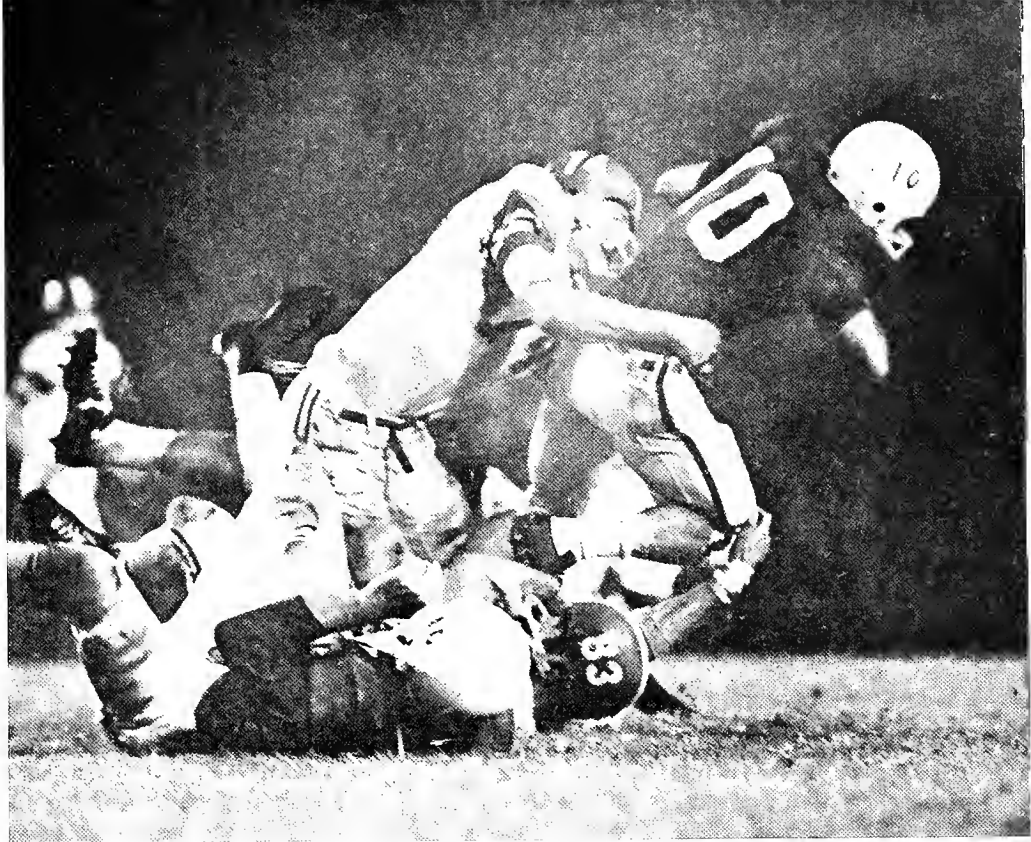

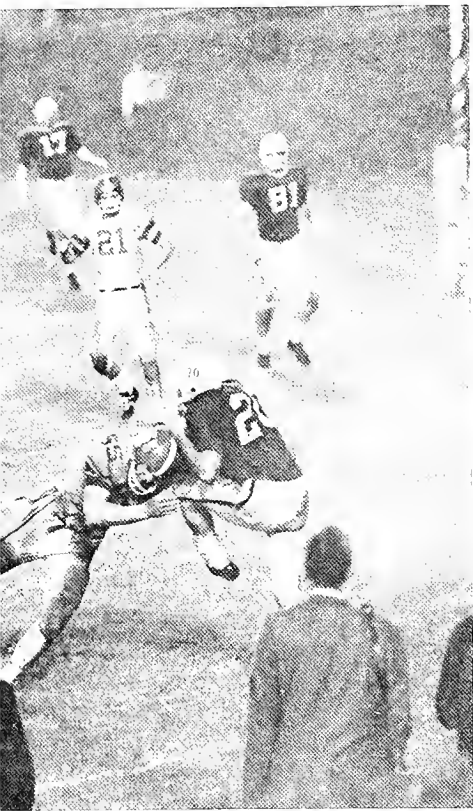

Something's gotta give.

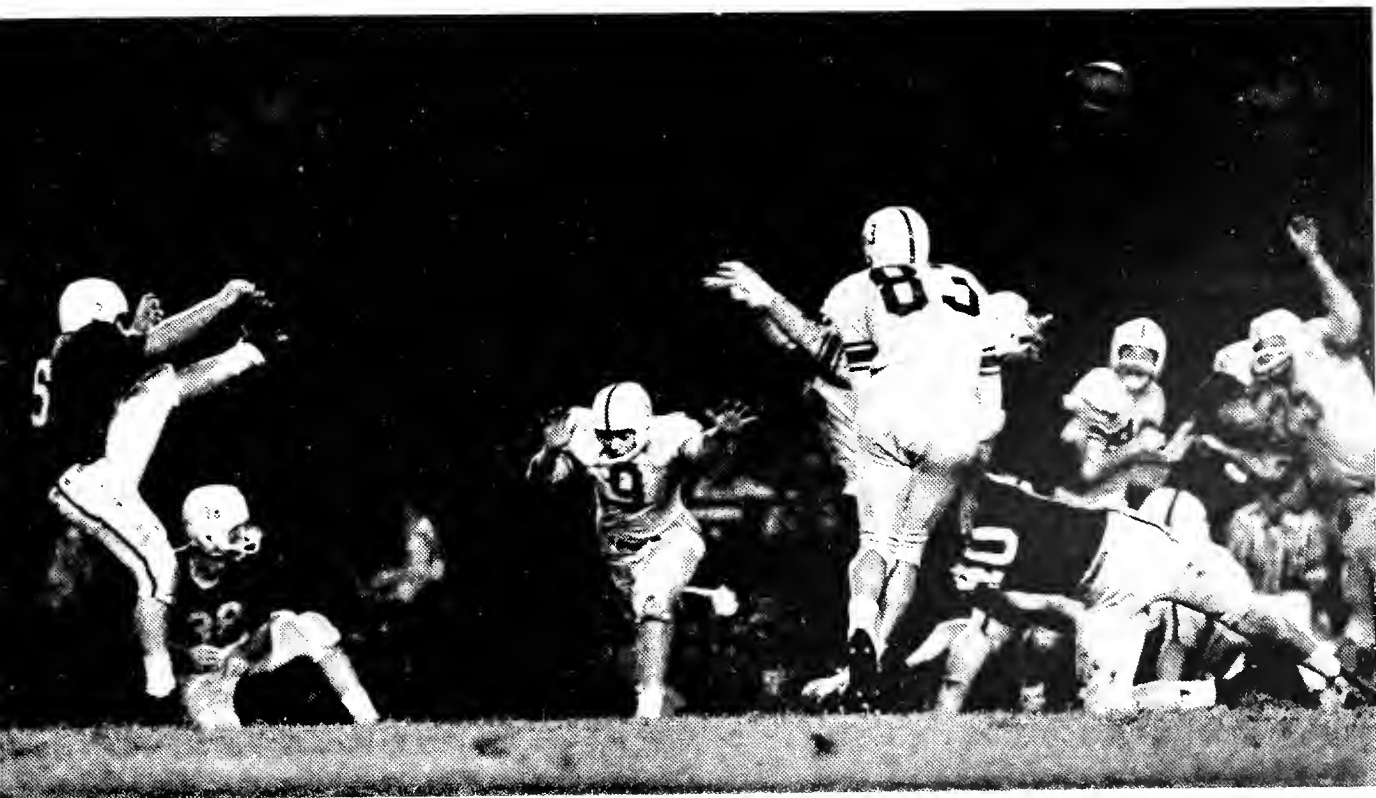

TULANE 7 ALABAMA 19

Aiming for a .500 mark in season play, the Greenies ventured to Mobile to tangle with Alabama's Crimson Tide under Bear Bryant. The Tide, in their second year under "the Bear," had lost only one game. A strong defense was Bama's most potent weapon, and for a while the game shaped up as a defensive battle. The cold air, making its first appearance of the season, caused many fumbles and incomplete passes. Tulane got a few good breaks, but were unable to capitalize on them. Early in the second quarter the Tide mounted a successful drive, scored, and converted. Bouncing back, Tulane scored seconds before the half ended, on a twenty yard forward pass, and the teams left the field deadlocked 7-7. Alabama caught fire in the second half and, led by quarterback Pat Thomas, began to show flashes of offensive power. Two scoring drives were mounted, and though Tulane fought hard in the closing periods, the Greenies left the field on the short end of a 19-7 score.

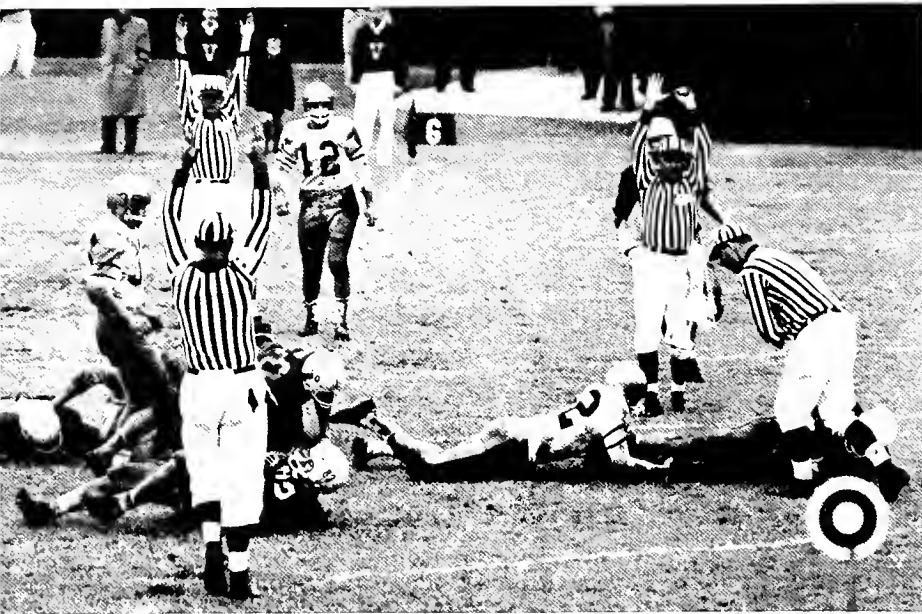

Nugent sneaks for a first down.

Kisner's kick ties Bama game at half.

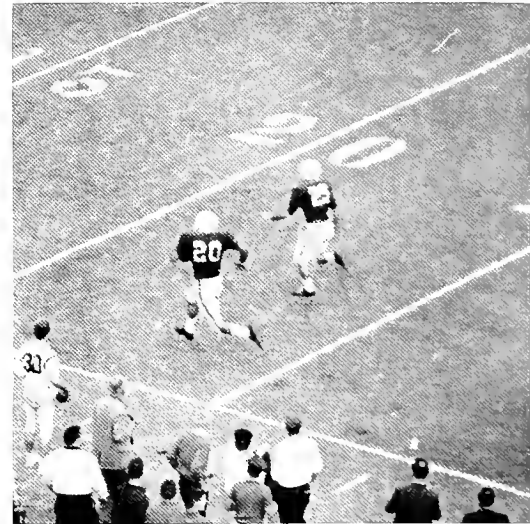

TULANE 6 VANDERBILT 6

In their last home appearance of the season the Wave met the Vanderbilt Commodores for the private school championship of the SEC. Vandy entered the game as a slight favorite. The first half of the game was, for the most part, a scoreless effort, with both teams unable to take advantage of the breaks. Finally, just before the half, Vandy scored on an eighty-yard ground drive. The conversion attempt failed, and at the intermission the score stood Vandy 6, Tulane 0. The third quarter was a punting duel with neither team scoring. In the fourth quarter Greenie fullback Connie Andrews crashed over for the tying tally. Kisner's kick was wide. The Wave earned its tie by stopping a final Vandy drive on the Tulane 18. Greenie defense held the Commodore's All-American candidate, Tom Moore, to an average of roughly 2 yards per carry.

In the final game of the year the Wave traveled to Baton Rouge for the traditional match with the Sugar Bowl bound Tigers of LSU. An inspired band of Tulane Greenies caged the Tigers in their own end of the field for the entire first half, and the halftime score was 0 to 0.

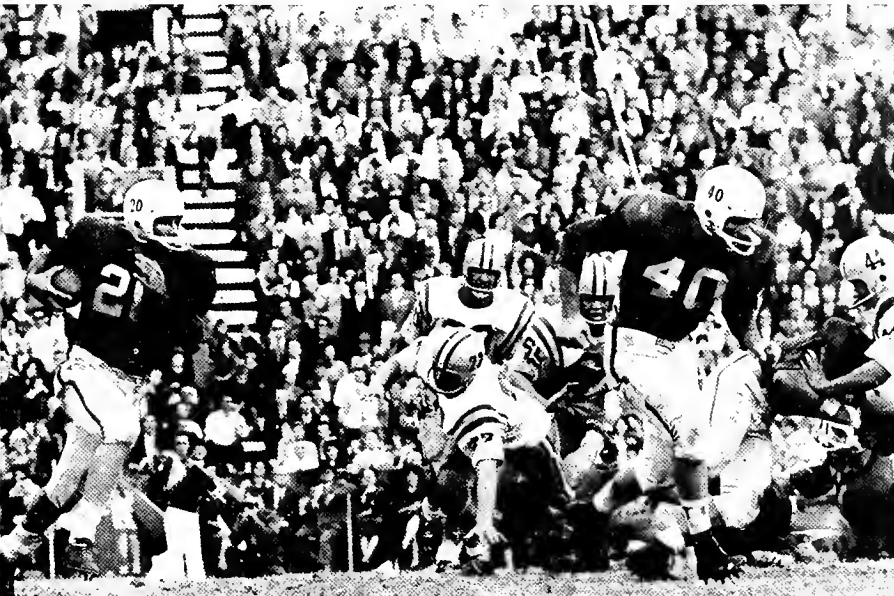

The Tigers found pep during the intermission and roared back to score 14 points early in the third quarter. Many of the fans thought this to be the beginning of the end for the Wave. Tommy Mason destroyed this theory by electrifying the crowd of 68,000 by sprinting past the entire Tiger team for a 59-yard punt return. The game ended with the score 14 to 6, but if ever a moral victory was won, the fired up Tulanians won a mighty one that afternoon and played a game that many who were there, especially the Tigers, will never forget.

COACH CLIFF WELLS

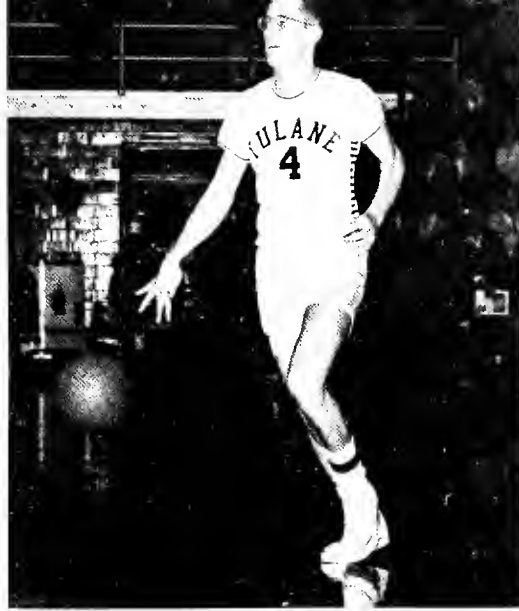

BASKETBALL

Late in 1959 Tulane Coach Cliff Wells took the wraps off of the current edition of the Green Wave basketball team. The Greenies opened in fine style by downing Alabama State, Louisiana College, and Stetson. Then they hit a cold spell and lost four in a row, three of them to Southwestern Conference teams. Then in the Sugar Bowl the Wave won one and lost one. Opening SEC competition, the Wave swept three in a row, Georgia, Florida, and Tennessee. Then they lost one to Kentucky in Lexington. Of the next seven games the Greenies won four, including an overtime thriller from Mississippi State, 51 to 47. As this book goes to press, there are four games remaining on the schedule: Ole Miss, Mississippi State and LSU away and one game with the LSU Tigers here. Tulane's sophomore center, Jack Ardon, is leading the SEC in rebounds and is well up in the scoring race. Coach Wells has substituted freely and thus given his many promising sophomores a lot of good game experience. The great play which has been turned in this season by seniors Vic Klinker, Ron Mitchell, and Dick O'Brien will be sorely missed next year. However, with plenty of experienced lettermen returning and the addition of four good freshmen, Coaches Wells and Pederson should have a title contending team next year. The Wave hopes will also be bolstered by the fast growing realization by the Tulane student body that basketball is a fast and exciting sport and fits into the Tulane athletic program, taking second place to no other sport. The large and enthusiastic crowds next year should be in for a real basketball treat.

The Tulane basketball team spent its Christmas holidays in 1959 participating in the Sugar Bowl Basketball Tournament. Cast in the role of an underdog, the Greenies played exceptionally well. In the opening game of the tourney, the Wave topped the Gobblers of Virginia Tech, 62 to 57. In this same round Western Kentucky eliminated defending champion, Mississippi State. The next night Tulane met Western Kentucky in the finals. Star forward Vic Klinker was injured during the game and was lost to the Greenies for a time. After a tough battle Western Kentucky edged the Wave, 71 to 67. The Greenies didn't have a home court advantage during the tourney due to the fact that the Loyola Field House is used for Sugar Bowl basketball. Outstanding play for Tulane was turned in by Ron Mitchell, Jack Ardon, Rex Krider, Gus Wenzel, and Klinker, along with consistently good play making by Dick O'Brien.

TRACK

This year, for the first time in many years, Tulane will have a full-fledged track program due to the completion of the new university track facilities. Olympic champion, Dave Sime, has called the crushed brick track one of the finest in the country. Coach Oelkers has several top flight veterans returning plus many promising freshmen prospects. This year's full and exciting schedule should make full use of the new track and pits which are located in the new sports center behind the Tulane Sugar Bowl Stadium. One of the highlights of this season will be the dual meet with the Southeastern Conference defending champions, LSU. The new track program is another step in the re-emphasis of spring sports at Tulane.

TENNIS

During the 1959 spring tennis season the Green Wave tennis team continued Tulane's traditional success in this sport. The squad went undefeated throughout the season; defeating such teams as Northwestern, LSU, Texas, Georgia Tech, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Ole Miss, and the New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club. The Wave was also leading when a match with Rice was cancelled due to rain. The Greenie netters continued their christening of the new courts and stadium behind the Field House by winning the Southeastern Conference title. Ron Holmberg won the singles championship and he teamed with Crawford Henry to cop the doubles competition. These two then went on to the national eliminations and brought the NCAA Inter-collegiate Team Tennis Championship home to Tulane. Although Holmberg has completed his eligibility, Henry returns as does the rest of last year's team. Coach Pare also has several talented freshmen who, under his expert coaching, should continue to make the name Tulane synonymous with championship tennis.

COACH JACK ORSLEY

In a total of 15 varsity games this past year, the Tulane Baseballers compiled a record of six wins and nine losses. Prospects, however, look much brighter for the 1960 season. Tulane will have use of its new diamond located behind the Sugar Bowl Stadium. In addition, the Greenies will be under the direction of a new coach, Jack Orsley. Coach Orsley was formerly athletic director of Loyola University of the South and was basketball and baseball coach. He is a graduate of Illinois University and has his Masters from Columbia. The heart of the Wave mound corps will return, led by Herb Fall, hard throwing right-hander who had a 3.54 earned run average for the lowest on the squad last season. Jimmy Donoghoe and Bob Cornett along with most of last season's team will also return. More experience plus a new coach and the addition of several new players all point to a winning season for the 1960 edition of the Green Wave Baseball Squad.

GOLF

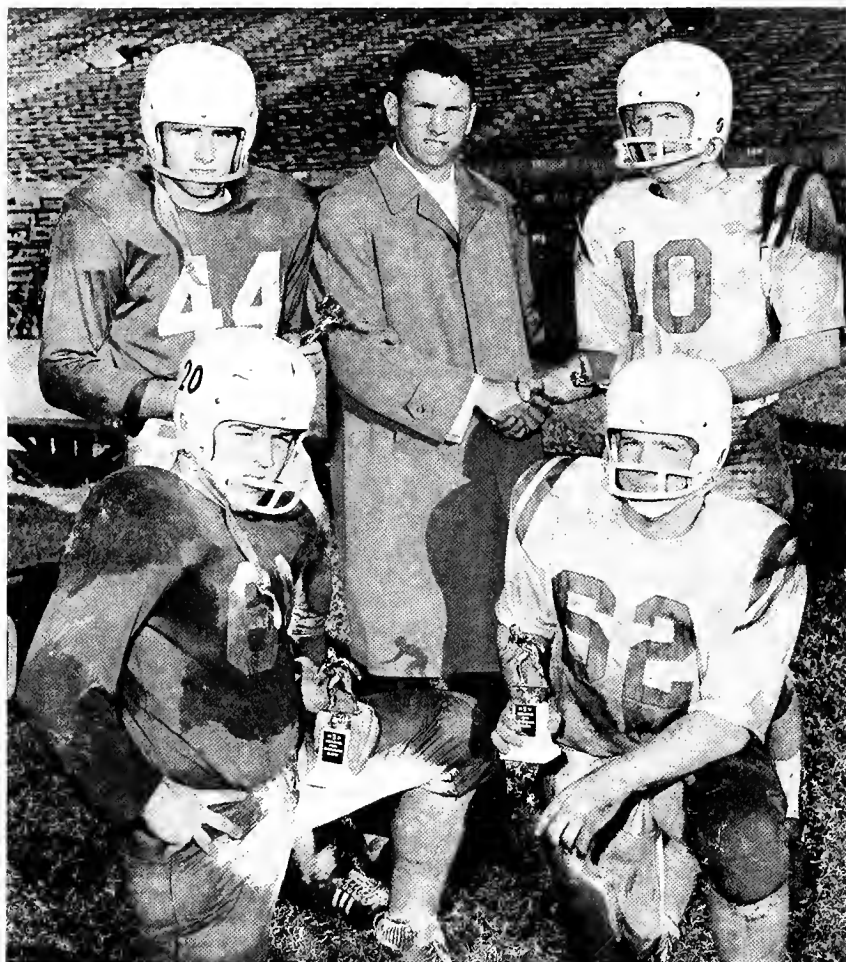

Last season's golf team showed a marked improvement over previous years by winning seven matches while losing only four. Prospects for this year are even brighter. There are three seniors returning: Finklestein, Mussafer, and Barcelo. There are also many underclassmen who have a great deal of promise. The schedule for this spring includes Yale, LSU, Mississippi Southern and several Louisiana colleges. Coach Innes Miller and his squad are hoping for at least a 9 and 2 season.

TULANE FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE

Soon after the close of the regulation season, the Tulane freshmen and sophomores renewed their annual football rivalry. The squads were composed of athletically inclined students who were not involved in intercollegiate competition. Coached by members of the Green Wave, the boys were soon molded into two well coordinated teams. In a hard fought contest, the sophomores, who lead the series, edged out the freshmen by the score of 12 to 6. Outstanding players in the game were: for the sophomores—outstanding back Dave Allred and outstanding lineman Jay Seastrunk. The freshman outstanding back was Butch Gatlin and outstanding lineman was Lynn Zarr.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

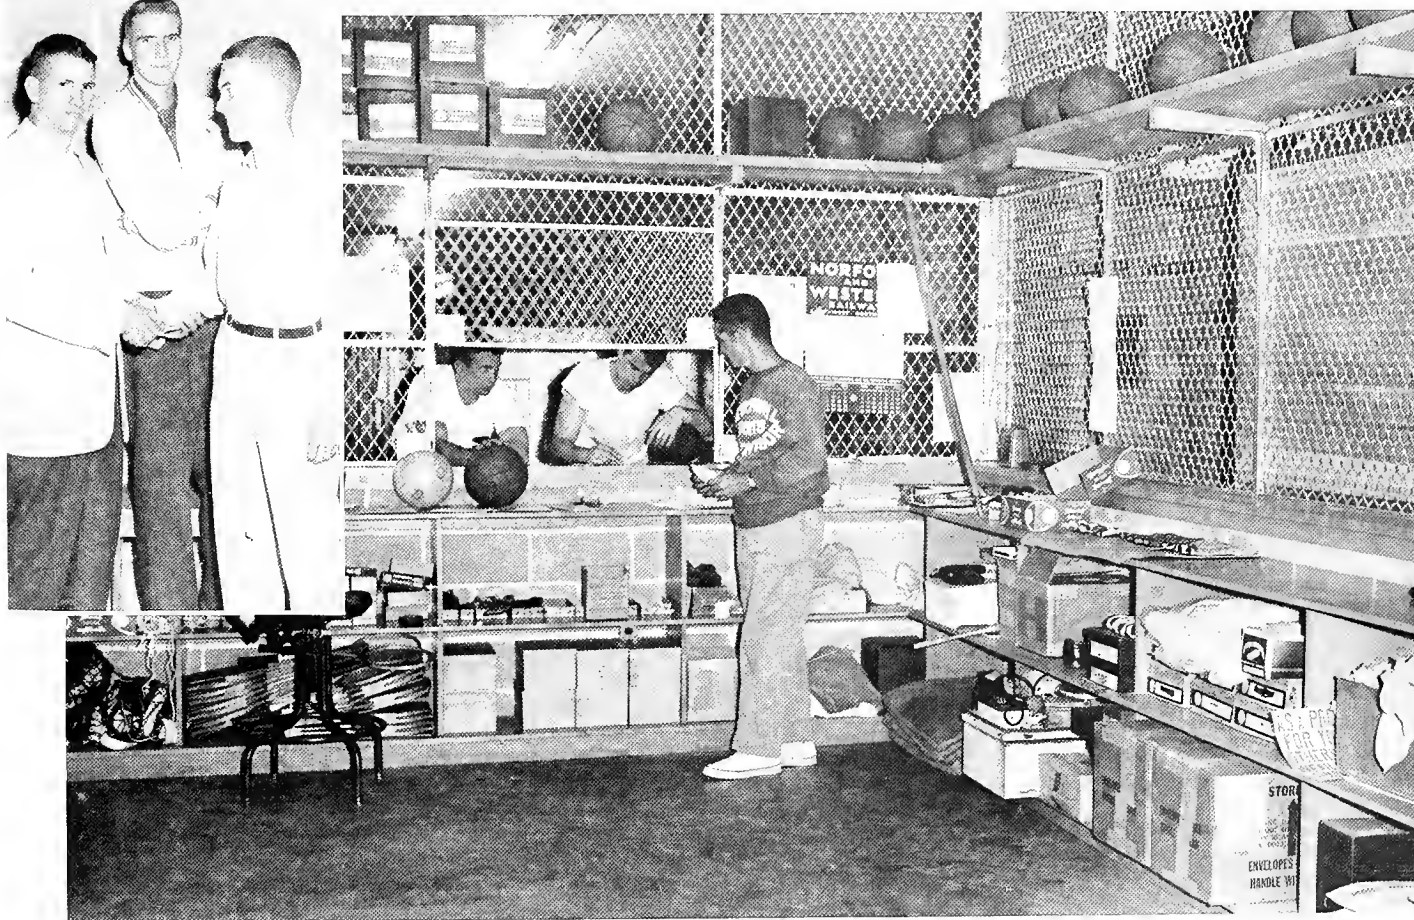

Tulane offers a well-rounded intramural sports program to meet the athletic needs of those students who are not eligible for intercollegiate competition. Competition is on a team and individual basis, classified by dormitory, school, club, or military unit. The sports vary in range from bridge to football; including soccer, basketball, badminton, softball, tennis, swimming, and others. All intramural activities are ably supervised by Coach Ben Abadie and his staff. The center of activity is the field house with its modern facilities. The field house is also open throughout the afternoon and night for any students who want to "get back into shape." There are three handball courts adjacent to the field house. A fully equipped gymnasium completes the intramural facilities.

TULANE SAILING CLUB

The Tulane Sailing Club gives students an opportunity to learn the art of sailing through the facilities of the Southern Yacht Club. On a pretty spring afternoon the waters of Lake Ponchartrain are covered with white sails as the group practices. Much time is also spent in mending sails and line, and painting. Last year the club won third place in the Midwestern Invitational Race sponsored by Ohio State University.

STUDENT ATHLETIC LIAISON COMMITTEE

One of the new student groups this year, the Student Athletic Liaison Committee, is composed of three student leaders and is charged with the responsibility of assisting the athletic department in entertaining high school football prospects. This year's members, Tommy Smith, Harvey Koch, and Charlie Seemann, helped to take these boys out to dinner and find them dates during their stay on the Tulane campus. This committee, by properly executing its functions, helps in a large way to boost Tulane's football prowess.

NEWCOMB PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Newcomb Pan-Hellenic Council is an organization composed of two delegates from each sorority, and it has as its aims good scholarship and whole-hearted cooperation with the college's ideals for student life.

The Council is responsible for the regulation of sorority rush, Homecoming decorations, Pan-Hellenic sports, Skit Night, and Campus Carnival Competition. Each year the Council holds a workshop which is attended by all the officers of each sorority, the function of which is to provide an opportunity for all the sororities on campus to meet, discuss mutual problems, and suggest possible solutions.

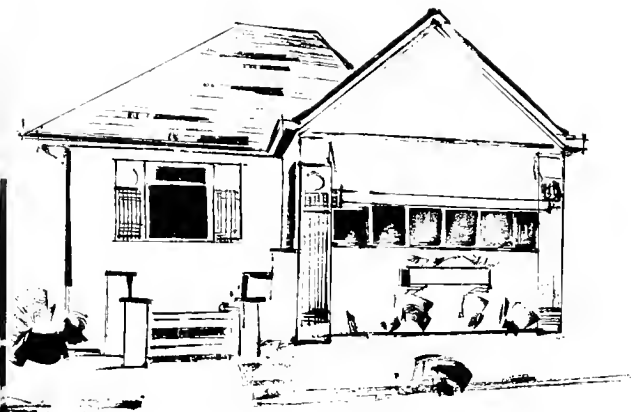

The City Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Tray is awarded to the sorority with the highest yearly scholastic average, and each year the Newcomb Pan-Hellenic Trophy is presented to the sorority which has accumulated the most points for outstanding participation in various campus activities throughout the year.

Fierce inter-sorority competition is displayed at the Sigma Chi Derby Day.

■ ALPHA DELTA PI ■ MU CHAPTER

Alpha Delta Pi, the oldest woman's sorority, was founded at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia. Epsilon chapter was chartered on the Newcomb campus in 1906.

Every year Alpha Delta Pi participates in campus activities such as Songfest, Homecoming, and Campus Carnival. In December the sorority gave a Christmas party for orphans and throughout the year has contributed to the national charity for handicapped children.

The social year began with the pledge banquet and party and was followed by an alumni tea later in the month. A houseparty at Long Beach and the annual President party were other colorful fall events. Dinners at the house, the Founder's Day Banquet, and a pledge-active breakfast also added to Alpha Delta Pi's social calendar. The formal, held early this spring, was, of course, the crowning event of the year.

Alpha Delta Pi is proud of Karen Bailey, president of the Music school; Susie Bruck, chairman of the Decorations Committee at the University Center, and Diana Daly, chairman of the Hospitality Committee. Other active sisters were Denise Bailliet chosen "Miss France" for International Day, and Deanna Schloegal who appeared at the Blue Room. Three Alpha Delta Pis, Carol Doskey, Ginny Nazro, and Connie Sarvay, were on their junior year abroad.

■ ALPHA EPSILON PHI ■ EPSILON CHAPTER

Alpha Epsilon Phi, founded at Barnard College, was installed at Newcomb in 1916, and has been an active sorority on campus since that time.

A house party on the Gulf Coast started Alpha Epsilon Phi's social year. In October the 62 actives gave a party at Bruno's for the 33 pledges. A Halloween theme provided the background for the annual fall dinner-dance at Lakewood Country Club. When December came around, the Phi's gave a party for the children at Kingsley House. The Founder's Day Luncheon plus frequent lunches at the sorority house were enjoyed by all. A Formal in the spring at Lakewood Country Club was the highlight of the Alpha Epsilon Phi social calendar.

Alpha Epsilon Phi's have excelled in all phases of campus activities. Barbara Miller was president of the Student Center and second vice-president of the Tulane Student Council. Diane Orkin and Beverly Blumberg were presidents of the Senior and Junior Class respectively. Sherrell Hoffman was secretary of the Senior Class, and Linda Glazer was secretary of the Sophomore class. Gloria Schottenstein and Lynn Orkin were members of Assets, and Lynn was president of the honorary sophomore organization. Phyllis Alexander, Marilyn Meyer and Lynn Orkin were Tulane Cheerleaders. Lynn Thalheimer was president of Newcomb's Pan-Hellenic Council, and Phyllis Alexander was a representative to Tulane's Student Council.

■ ALPHA OMICRON PI ■ PI CHAPTER

Alpha Omicron Pi originated at Barnard College, and in 1898 Pi chapter was chartered on the Newcomb campus.

This year AOPi continued in its position as a leader on campus. In sorority competition it claimed second in volley ball and third in Homecoming decorations; Alpha Omicron Pi also participated in Campus Carnival. Together AOPi and Phi Kappa Sigma held their annual Christmas party for orphans.

The AOPi's had a busy social season—starting with a pre-school house party on the coast. In December, the pledges and actives enjoyed a picnic, and later on, the Founder's Day banquet. The New Orleans Country Club was the scene of the pledge dinner dance in early January, followed by the highlight of the social year—the spring formal on April 9th.

Not only as a group did the AOPi's play an important role on campus, but also the individual members achieved recognition. Elected to Who's Who were Justine Bernard, Cecile Dodge, and Colleen Sullivan. Judie Edwards was named to Hall of Fame, and Pat Firmin was chosen for membership in Assets. Serving as Presidents of campus organizations were Colleen Sullivan, Honor Board; K. Montgomery, Mortar Board; Justine Bernard, TUT; and Judy Farrar, Phi Chi Theta. Kay Hecker and Retta Babst were Chairman and Vice-chairman of Orientation, respectively. Michaela Pelletteri was president of the Freshman class, and Judy Farrar was Secretary-Treasurer of the Business School. AOPi also boasted the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi—Ickey Trueting. Other AOPi's served on the Student Directory, "Hullabaloo," and JAMBALAYA staffs, in Tusk and House Council.

■ CHI OMEGA ■ RHO CHAPTER

Molly Maugham, president

Chi Omega was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1895. Rho chapter has been an important part of Greek life at Newcomb since its establishment in 1900.

The 1959-60 year for the Chi Omegas was filled with plenty of work and play. The social year got off to a fine start with a successful rush week which brought about a fine group of pledges. The year continued with the Chi Omega participating in many activities including Skit Night, Campus Carnival, and homecoming decorations. The sorority sent helpful CARE packages to a Greek orphan whom they sponsored. Many members also worked in the library at Touro Hospital and at the Crippled Children's Hospital. The year was boosted with a houseparty at the Buena Vista. During the month of October the Chi Omegas were hostesses at a dinner dance. Supper meetings and lunches were enjoyed by all during this successful year.

Rho chapter can boast of the honors received by many of their girls. Molly Mangham was elected Secretary of Business, while Anne Davis was elected to the 1960 Beauty Court and Mary E. Burke to the Homecoming Court.

Thus by actively helping in the community, participating in campus events and enjoying social events, the Chi Omegas have created a sense of unity and pride in their sorority.

■ DELTA ZETA
 ■ BETA URSILON CHAPTER

Delta Zeta was established October 24, 1902.

The Beta Upsilon chapter began the year with the usual flurry of activities: Rush, Homecoming decorations and an open house after the Tulane-Georgia Tech game. As the semester progressed the DZ's continued their festivities with a Founders' Day banquet, a Christmas party for deaf children, and a nopen house on Parents' Day. The highlight of Delta Zeta's social calendar was the Rose Formal which carried out the motif of their colors, Old Rose and Nile Green. It will long be remembered by the sisters as an affair enjoyed by all. A trip to Baton Rouge for the Delta Zeta State Day rounded out the social whirl.

Beta Upsilon claims honors in campus activities. Joan Rogers was secretary of Pan-Hellenic Council of Newcomb. Gayle Howell had the distinction of being the first woman student at Tulane to receive the Schlumberger Institute Scholarship for outstanding collegiate work.

■ KAPPA ALPHA THETA ■ ALPHA PHI CHAPTER

Founded at DePauw University, Alpha Phi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta was installed at Newcomb in 1914.

Kappa Alpha Theta had a busy year of participation in campus and Pan-Hellenic activities such as Homecoming Display Competition and Campus Carnival. The sisters also showed their interest in civic responsibilities as they volunteered their time twice a week to work with underprivileged children.

With dinner at the house every Monday night the pledges and actives were drawn together in a close tie. The party that the pledges gave for the actives topped off their round of activities. The Christmas party that the Mother's Club gave climaxed the social events of the first semester.

In February Theta celebrated its Founder's Day with the annual banquet, but the highlight of the year was the Spring Formal.

The sorority has been represented in an outstanding manner in all phases of campus life. Among Kappa Alpha Theta's VIP's were Charlene Podas, President of the Newcomb Student Body, representative to the Tulane Student Council and representative to the Publications Board; Jane Igert, President of Mortar Board; Susie Smith, President of the Tulane-Newcomb Wesley Foundation; Johanna Campbell, representative to the Tulane Student Council, House Council and Inner-House Council; Ann Godfrey, Warren House Council; Letty Goltry, secretary of the Resident Student Government Association; Kathy Knolle, President of Josephine Louise House; Ann Aucoin, President of Warren House; Kita Kelly, President of the Sophomore class, representative to the Newcomb Honor Board and Newcomb Student Council.

■ KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA
 ■ BETA OMICRON CHAPTER

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in 1870, and Beta Omicron chapter has held an important place on the Newcomb campus since 1904. The sorority colors are light and dark blue, and the flower is the fleur-de-lis. Rush Week was heralded by a wonderful group of twenty-five pledges, and on the night of pledging, both actives and pledges celebrated at a swimming party. A week later formal pledging was held, after which the group adjourned to Delmonico's for its annual pledge banquet.

By Christmas the pledges were well integrated into the group, and before going home for the holidays, the annual Kappa Christmas Party was held. Entertainment ranged from poetry reading to apple dunking.

After a two-week vacation and then exams, the sorority initiated those pledges who had made their grades. Thoughts then turned to the Spring Formal, this year held at the Century Room of the Monteleone Hotel. In May, the founding of Beta Omicron chapter was celebrated at the annual Founders' Day Banquet where the seniors were sadly bid adieu.

■ PHI MU ■ DELTA CHAPTER

Phi Mu was founded at Wesleyan College, and Delta Chapter was established on the Newcomb campus in 1906.

In September the members of Delta returned to the white house on Zimple Street, brown from the sun and filled with enthusiasm inspired by the annual pre-rush house party at the White House on the Gulf Coast. Close on the heels of the busy rush season came pledging and the annual pledge banquet. A French Quarter excursion, a rainy picnic, and numerous informal get-togethers brought the big and little sisters closer. Almost before anyone realized it, Homecoming was here and gone, and Phi Mu had won fourth place for house decorations.

The fall social season whirled by with the monthly Mothers' Club luncheons, an informal supper-dance at the house, Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas parties. Monthly Philomathean Hours brought members together for informal sings and entertaining speakers. In the spring, the sorority combined philanthropy and fun at a Valentine's Day party for the crippled children's hospital. As tradition dictated, the annual spring formal was held the Friday before Mardi Gras at the Southern Yacht Club. It highlighted a wonderful vacation break.

As a group, Delta participated in the intramural tournaments and looked forward to Skit Night participation. As individuals, the Phi Mus worked with House Council, the "Hullabaloo," the Student Directory, various University Center Committees, religious groups, and spirit organizations. There were members in the Concert Choir, the Dance Club, the Art Club, and TUT. The honoraries Phi Sigma Iota, Sigma Pi Sigma, and Kappa Delta Pi claimed members of Phi Mu. Joan Apgar and Marilyn Vanderberg served as presidents of the Christian Science Group and of Westminster Fellowship. Kay Bergeret was treasurer of Sigma Pi Sigma, and she and Eleanor Foulk served as R.O.T.C. sponsors.

■ PI BETA PHI
 ■ LOUISIANA ALPHA CHAPTER

Pi Beta Phi, founded at Monmouth College in 1867, was installed at Newcomb College in 1891. The Pi Phis were active participants on the campus this year, both as a group and individually. After a busy house-party at Holiday Inn in Gulfport, a very successful Rush Week was enjoyed, followed by the traditional pledge banquet held at Arnaud's. The Mother-Daughter Tea was followed by a scholarship dinner, and the pledges staged a successful style show. To celebrate their newly redecorated house, the Pi Phis held Open House in the fall, inviting their campus friends. At Christmas time they adopted a poor family and brought them gifts. At the annual spring formal on March 18, Pi Phi enjoyed the music of Rene Louapre.

In Pan-Hellenic competition Pi Phi won first place in Volleyball and second place in Homecoming decorations. Judy O'Brien was Homecoming Queen and Virginia Jones was in the Court. Pam Plumley and Helen Scibienski were elected to the JAMBALAYA Beauty Court.

The Pi Phis are proud of the honors won by their members this year. Judy O'Brien, Dottie Storey and Susan Pace represent Pi Phi in Who's Who, and Judy O'Brien served as Secretary of the Tulane Student Council. Kathy Sangster was elected Secretary of the Newcomb Student Council, and Bev Bretz was chosen Freshman Cheerleader. Judy O'Brien, Dottie Storey, and Pat Van Scoy were in the Hall of Fame; Dottie was President of the Athletic Council. Jan Hendrick was on the Newcomb Honor Board. Susan Pace was chosen Vice-Chairman of Region 9 of the Student Union Board.

■ SIGMA DELTA TAU
 ■ ALPHA IOTA CHAPTER

Sigma Delta Tau was founded at Cornell University in 1917 and Alpha Iota chapter was founded on Newcomb's campus in 1955. The sorority began the year with a successful rush week, which only started the year's activities. Pledges and actives worked on Homecoming decorations, philanthropic projects, skit night, and athletic events. At the first of the year an open house was held at Bruno's for the fraternities, while in December, a party was held aboard "The Steamer President." The Gulf Coast was the place of the winter retreat, where a bean and steak dinner was given in honor of the girls who had high scholastic averages. The climax of the SDT social calendar was the annual spring formal held in April.

The SDT's boast their VIP's on campus: Vickie Goldberg, President of the Art School and the Art Club; Ilene Bock, Vice-president of Newcomb Student Body; Elaine Gilner, Secretary of Newcomb Student Body; Judy Litvin, Secretary of TUT and the Newcomb Panhellenic Association; Pat Heinsimer, Treasurer of Barracudas; Aletha Schultz, Treasurer of the Freshman Class; Marilyn Cohen, Honor Board Representative for the Freshman Class. SDT was also represented in Who's Who in American Colleges by Vickie Goldberg and Ilene Bock. Alpha Iota is also proud of Bobbie Gordon who is spending her Junior Year Abroad in France.

SDT's on Newcomb Campus are found active in Student Center work, choral groups, the "Hullabaloo," Campus Nite, Hillel Foundation, Interfaith Council, the Dance Club, Greenbackers, and Tusk.

Dr. Karlem Riess, Faculty Advisor to Fraternities

TULANE PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

In 1858 the first fraternity was founded on the Tulane campus. Since that time the fraternity system has grown and prospered to the extent that now there are sixteen national fraternities at Tulane, all of which are governed by the Pan-Hellenic Council.

The council is composed of a junior and senior representative from each fraternity. The executive function of the council is vested in the Judiciary Committee, comprised of the four officers and two members at large, which serves as advisor to the chairman and assists him in the performance of his duties. The Judiciary Committee is supplemented by the Athletic Committee, chaired by the Director of Interfraternity Activities. This committee has jurisdiction over all the various competitive activities of the fraternities, ranging from football to songfest and scholarship.

In September the Council opens the year with a welcoming banquet for all new pledges. The Council also sponsors as its major activity the annual "Greek Week," and was one of the first campuses in the country to institute such a program. The "Week," climaxed by the Pan-Hellenic formal, features officer and pledge discussions and the community "Help Day," all of which are designed to promote a united fraternity system on the Tulane campus.

■ ALPHA EPSILON PI ■ TAU UPSILON CHAPTER

Alpha Epsilon Pi was founded at New York University, and the Tau Upsilon Chapter appeared on the Tulane campus in 1951. This has been a banner year for Tau Upsilon, as thirty-six boys accepted the blue and gold pledge pin of Alpha Epsilon Pi, the largest pledge class on campus.

Departing from the old cliché about all work and no play, the boys have not forgotten the social side of college, as evidenced by such successful parties as the Gangster party, Pat O'Brien Revue with Emile Parea as master of ceremonies, the Pledge party, and the annual Shipwreck party. These gala affairs gave the members of Alpha Epsilon Pi many fun-filled hours. The annual Spring Formal which was held at the Monteleone Hotel remains a cherished memory for the departing seniors, as well as the new brothers.

Alpha Epsilon Pi has excelled scholastically, taking first place in scholastic competition for the second time in three years.

The Fraternity participated with much enthusiasm in all facets of Pan-Hellenic competition. Some campus activities in which the brothers participated were the "Hullabaloo," Greenbackers, Tusk, APO, Pre-Medical Society, Pi Lambda Beta, Phi Beta Kappa, ROTC, Campus Nite, Honor Board, and the new University Center.

■ ALPHA TAU OMEGA ■ BETA EPSILON CHAPTER

Alpha Tau Omega, the first fraternity founded after the War Between the States, had its birth at Virginia Military Institute in 1865. Louisiana Beta Epsilon chapter was established at Tulane in 1887.

Near the close of a tremendous Rush Week, climaxed by the pledging of eighteen top men, the brothers were elated by an announcement at the outstanding Alumni Banquet-Rush Party held at the Southern Yacht Club. Although the chapter house was recently re-modeled the Alumni have contracted to purchase a new house for the chapter at 712 Broadway.

As always, the Taus' calendar included the Cave Party, followed by the annual Christmas Party with its poem of praise to the chapter brothers. With the benefit of a somewhat enlarged Santa suit, Carl Craine distributed gifts to the orphans.

By way of custom, ATO ended each semester with a traditional party. The Sweetheart Formal at the New Orleans Country Club closed the first semester properly, and the Beachcomber Party provided the finishing touches for the school term. The newsmaking ATO banana wagon-train successfully journeyed to Bourbon Street on the Mardi Gras holiday.

Active in all phases of Pan-Hellenic competition, the ATO brothers placed third in football, won the volleyball championship, and took third place honors with their Homecoming display.

Beta Epsilon had its members in many honorary and elective organizations. Omer Kuebel served as president of Delta Sigma Pi, and Thomas Gonsoulin was president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, serving also on the Arts and Science Honor Board. Seats on the Student Council were held by Reynolds Wagnon and Wayne Barcelo, who was also Vice-President of his engineering class and a member of Tau Beta Pi. John Chaffe was elected to membership in Sigma Pi Sigma.

■ BETA THETA PI ■ BETA XI CHAPTER

Fred Dickerson, president

Beta Theta Pi was founded at Miami University of Ohio in 1939 and Beta Xi came to Tulane in 1908.

Once again the Betas were a power in Pan-Hellenic events, taking second place in football behind their captain, York Feitel. With most of the team returning and a strong pledge team, the Betas will be able to give a strong challenge again next year.

On the Beta social calendar was the famous Jungle party, a highlight of the year. In direct contrast was the traditional Blue and White Formal. In addition to these two gala events were the usual small parties that enabled Beta to continue the long hard educational grind.

Beta's love and gratitude must be extended to their housemother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dalgarn, who has done so much to make the Beta house a home for the out of town boys.

In campus activities, Beta has continued to hold a place of honor. Charles Seemann was elected Representative-at-Large for the student body and Pan-Hellenic President. President of the Engineering School was York Feitel. The President of Beta Xi distinguished himself as vice-president of the Senior class of the school of Arts and Science and the Varsity Club. In the NROTC, Sloan McCloskey was Battalion Adjutant, and Steve Nichols served as Secretary of the Junior Class of Business School.

■ DELTA KAPPA EPSILON
 ■ TAU LAMBDA CHAPTER

The Tau Lambda Chapter of DKE was established at Tulane in 1889, fifty-five years after its founding at Yale.

Since that time, Dekes have been most active in campus affairs, and this year was no exception. The chapter took part in most facets of Pan-Hellenic competition and emerged with a commendable record. An outstanding pledge class, netted at the end of a roaring Rush Week, took part with the members in actively participating in a number of extra-curricular activities.

Deke's famous social gatherings were their usual successes, and, as ever, enjoyed by everyone. The annual Debutramp Ball could hardly be forgotten, along with the Toga party. Another Deke innovation, the Ivy League Weekend, rounded out a full social season, together with a host of other parties that helped to make the season a success.

Many members held positions of responsibility during the year. Richard Freeman was president of Business Administration, Buddy Friedrichs being a unit manager, while three others served on the Honor Boards of their respective colleges. Benny Powell was a member of the Pan-Hell Judiciary Committee. Other Dekes served in class offices, on the staff of the "Hullabaloo," and as officers in the ROTC.

■ DELTA TAU DELTA ■ BETA XI CHAPTER

Delta Tau Delta Fraternity was founded in 1858 at Bethany College in Virginia. Thirty-one years later Beta Xi Chapter came into existence on the Tulane campus.

The 70th Annual Alumni Banquet at the New Orleans Country Club highlighted Rush Week which resulted in another outstanding pledge class. In addition to the pledge class, the chapter was pleased with the Shelter's recent improvements, including the addition of a fence around the patio and the remodeling of the upstairs rooms.

After Rush Week everyone settled into the regular routine of studies, parties, and extra-curricular activities. There have been some great parties at the Shelter this year from sorority champagne parties and after-game events to the Christmas Party. The highlights of second semester were our Annual Rainbow Ball and the Initiation Banquet at the New Orleans Country Club. And always there are those unofficial "meetings" at Bruno's!!

This year, as before, many of the Beta Xi's Delts took part in campus activities. Charles North was the President of the Sophomore Class of Architecture and a member of Phi Eta Sigma. Al Derbes was Vice-President of Engineering School's Sophomore Class, and Mickey Michel conducted the Powder Puff Bowl Football Game. Other campus organizations in which Delts are prominent include Tusk, Greenbackers, "Hullabaloo," Pre-Med Society, Student Center Committees, R.O.T.C. Units and Pershing Rifles.

The future promises much for Beta Xi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity as it carries on the proud traditions, high standards, and true brotherhood of its past.

■ KAPPA ALPHA ORDER ■ PSI CHAPTER

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee in 1865. Psi chapter was established at Tulane in 1885 and since that time it has prided itself with an outstanding group of young men.

This year as always the KA's upheld the principles of Southern tradition upon which their fraternity was founded. It is hoped that the eighteen pledges obtained during rush, representing 100% bid acceptance, will follow in the tradition of Robert E. Lee, who is considered the ideal gentleman and is placed in high esteem by every member of KA.

The highlight of the year is KA's Old South Ball at which mint juleps are downed in the true Southern style. Two other annual events are the Cotton Ball and the Bushman's Ball.

The KA's participate quite actively in Pan-Hellenic's activities. Such members as Alan Hardy and Baxter Brinkman, Business School Honor Board members; Al Gooch, engineering honor fraternity officer; and Terry Terrebone, All-Soph SEC halfback well represent the KA spirit.

This year's pledge class was one of KA's best and all indications point to the continued success of the chapter at Tulane.

■ KAPPA SIGMA ■ SIGMA CHAPTER

Fred Preaus, president

Kappa Sigma originated at the University of Virginia, and chartered the Sigma Chapter at Tulane in 1889.

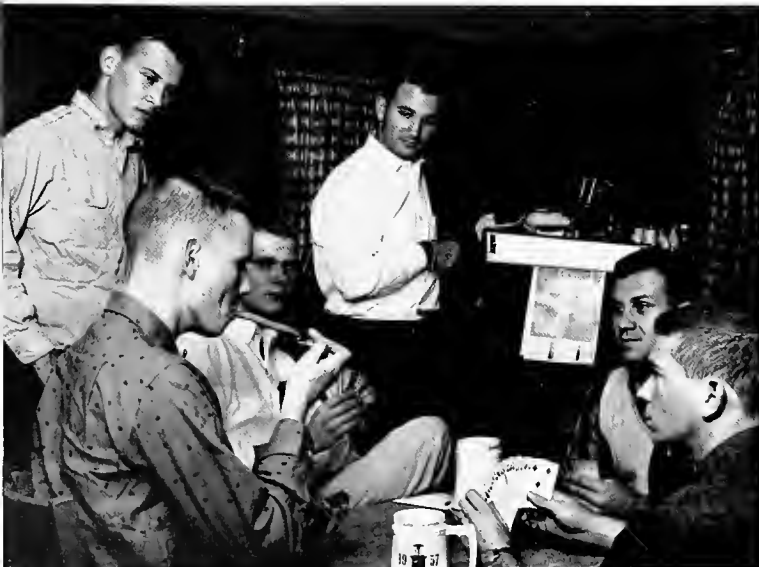

Fortunately, the Kappa Sigs returned this fall to a completely re-modeled chapter house thanks to its energetic housemother, Miss Ruth van der Maaten, and to the active alumni. This addition not only contributed to the success of Rush Week, but also has served to bind together chapter spirit and morale.

Social activities consisted of champagne parties for Newcomb sororities, date buffets at home football games, and a bus trip to Mobile to support the Green Wave. An important Fall event was the House Dedication in October, which was honored by a visit from the Kappa Sigma national president and the active mayor of New Orleans. The closed Winter Formal began the Christmas holidays in elegant style.

Scholarship is particularly stressed in the local chapter and national as well; two scholarship-leadership awards were presented this year to members of Kappa Sigma. Kappa Sigs hold memberships in Phi Eta Sigma and Phi Beta Kappa on the intellectual levels. Bob Ambrose and Glen House were tapped for Omicron Delta Kappa, and John Combe, Fred Preaus and Buddy Watson were elected to Who's Who. Offices were held by members in A Cappella Choir and Circle K. John Combe served as JAMBALAYA editor this year assisted by Neal Mangold, John Unverzagt, Buck Cefalu, Roger Silver, and Butch Laurent.

■ PHI DELTA THETA ■ LOUISIANA ALPHA CHAPTER

Phi Delta Theta was founded at Miami University of Ohio, and the chapter at Tulane appeared in 1889.

Phi Delts were prominent in all phases of campus life and Pan-Hellenic competition during the past year. Backed by an active alumni club, a Memory Room and recreation room were installed in the house, and the living rooms were completely refurnished. The pledges exemplified the spirit of the fraternity by giving the house a new coat of paint. The energetic housemother, Mrs. Marjorie Brown, has contributed much time and effort towards helping the fraternity.

Following a successful rush week, the first semester saw champagne parties for the sorority pledges, the Barn Dance, and the traditional Christmas party. Highlighting the spring activities were the Formal and the annual South Sea Island Party.

The Phi Delts were again active in Greenbackers, Tusk, JAMBALAYA, Adelpsons, and religious organizations, as well as holding class offices. The chapter was well represented in honorary organizations and held offices in Alpha Epsilon Delta and Phi Eta Sigma. Grant Collier commanded the Navy Drill Team, while other members of Louisiana Alpha acted as officers in all three R.O.T.C. units. Again Malcolm Genet played a leading role in TUT productions for the year. Rounding out the talents of the chapter, brothers were seen on Tulane's football, tennis, track, and baseball teams.

■ PHI KAPPA SIGMA ■ MU CHAPTER

Robert Oddone, president

Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity was founded at the University of Pennsylvania in 1850, and, in 1858, Mu chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma became the first fraternity on the Tulane campus.

Phi Kappa Sigma began the year with an extremely successful rush week and continued as a leading campus organization. The chapter won second place in songfest and gave wholehearted participation in all other Pan-Hellenic competition. Phi Kappa Sigma not only served the school, but took on civic duties also. The chapter entertained orphans from the Protestant Children's Home and helped brighten their Christmas at the annual Christmas Orphans' Party at the Phi Kap house.

A varied and imaginative social schedule guaranteed a year of fun. There were sorority parties, football game parties, supper dances, the old favorites, the Voodoo Party and the Baby Party, and, of course, "just plain parties." Of a more informal nature were the Homecoming decoration festivities, and activities with the pledges such as the pledge-active football game and the annual pledge-active tug o' war in Audubon Park.

As usual, Phi Kappa Sigma can boast leadership in other campus organizations. Bob Oddone, chapter president, was also president of the College of Arts and Sciences, and served on the Pan-Hellenic Judiciary Council. Butch Reeves and Alan Guma served as chairmen of University Center Committees. Alan was also tapped into Omicron Delta Kappa.

■ PI KAPPA ALPHA ■ ETA CHAPTER

Founded at the University of Virginia on March 1, 1868, Pi Kappa Alpha began at Tulane in 1878.

Throughout the year Pi Kappa Alpha was active in all phases of Tulane. Pan-Hellenic competition, placing increased emphasis on scholarship. This high ideal was instilled in Pike's 19-man pledge class which has proved most outstanding.

The Pikes had active participants in many organizations around campus such as Ed Spoto, vice-president of Lagniappes; Jerry Cassel, sports editor of the "Hullabaloo" and vice-president of Theta Nu, and John Abbott, a member of the Inter-Dorm House Council. Ken Klaffky played trumpet in the Tulane Concert Band, while other personalities on campus were Tommy Thompson, representative to the Interfaith Council and an officer in the Wesley Foundation; Bill Lemann, top sergeant in Army ROTC; Prentice Smith, active debater for the Glendy Burke Society, and Bill Green, Paul Cameron, Ed Spoto and Jerry Cassel members of Greenbackers and Tusk. Frank Hatchett spent his junior year abroad studying in Germany.

Pi Kappa Alpha's social season is always highlighted by the annual Dream Girl Formal held in February and the Fais Do-Do held in April. Parties after football games, sorority parties and semi-weekly costume parties completed the Pike's social calendar. In conclusion a Christmas party was held with special guests of honor from one of the city's orphanages.

■ SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON ■ TAU UPSILON CHAPTER

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama and has the distinction of being the first southern fraternity. Louisiana Tau Upsilon Chapter was established at Tulane in 1897. SAE began the year with an exciting and successful Rush Week and the pledging of 32 men. At the annual Pan-Hellenic Pledge Banquet SAE received its sixth consecutive Pan-Hellenic Sweepstakes Trophy for compiling the highest number of points in interfraternity competition during the previous year. Last year's victory also retired the second rotating trophy for interfraternity excellence. Louisiana Tau Upsilon also learned at the SAE national convention that it had excelled all other SAE chapters in scholarship for the year 1957-58.

First place in football and places in other events contributed to an early lead in this year's race.

The Sig Alphas enjoyed a roaring year socially. Numerous parties included the Newcomb sorority pledge reception, the "Lose-the-Rush-Week Blues" Party, the famous Suppressed Desire Party, the infamous Cuban Revolution Party, the Caveman Party given by the pledges, and the annual Christmas and Easter Orphan Parties. The year was climaxed socially on March 5 when the chapter at LSU came to New Orleans for the joint initiation, Founder's Day Alumni Banquet, and Winter Formal.

SAE held many positions of leadership on campus this year. Tommy Smith served as Student Body Vice-President and President of ODK. Other Student Council members were Gene Berry, Henry Blake, and Gedge Gayle. Tapped for ODK were Gene Berry, Bill Hardcastle, and Terry Stein. Gene Berry and Jon Levy were chairmen of University Center Committees. Murray Bass, Jon Levy, and Frank Roberts were commanders of the Navy, Army, and Air Force ROTC units respectively. Leo Young was co-captain of the football team. Selected for Who's Who were Bill Akins, Murray Bass, Henry Blake, Bob Jones, Jon Levy, Frank Roberts, Fred Sexton, and Leo Young.

■ SIGMA ALPHA MU ■ SIGMA GAMMA CHAPTER

Richard Wittner, president

Sigma Alpha Mu, founded at the City College of New York, joined the Tulane fraternity system in 1920 as the Sigma Gamma chapter. The Sammies were especially active in Pan-Hellenic this year. Their "Sigma Alpha Mu Hullabaloo" won first place in homecoming decorations. They also were awarded first place in Songfest competition.

The Sammie social calendar was filled with many well-planned parties, held at the recently remodeled, air-conditioned, sound-proof house on Audubon Street. A good time was had by all at the Pajama Party, the Hawaiian Party, and many others.

Community life also played an important part in the Sammie calendar of events with the Orphan's Christmas Party being one of the highlights of the year.

The Sigma Gamma chapter was again very active in campus affairs with many members taking part in various organizations. Jerry Horowitz held the position of President of the Tulane Student Body, Steve Shamberg was the head of the Personnel and Evaluations Committee of the Student Center, and many others took part in groups around campus.

Sigma Alpha Mu now looks forward with much eagerness to another year of success.

■ SIGMA CHI

■ ALPHA OMICRON CHAPTER

The Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded on June 28, 1855, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. Alpha Omicron of Sigma Chi was established on the Tulane campus on May 20, 1886. Since that time the chapter has always been active in campus affairs, such as intramural sports, and all the various spirit, religious, and vocational organizations.

Alpha Omicron added its contributions to campus activities this year as in the past with such activities as the Sigma Chi Derby Day and the "Sweetheart Dance." Derby Day is the Sigma Chi Competition among sororities. Those which place in this event receive points toward the Pan-Hellenic trophy for sororities. It is at the Sweetheart Dance that the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi is named.

Among other activities this year were the Sunday afternoon cocktail parties for sororities, Saturday night parties such as the Pledge-Active Party, Costume Party, and the Pledge-Active football game at Audubon Park. When possible, Sigma Chi traveled as a group to out-of-town football games where many good times were had with Sigs from other chapters.

This year Sigma Chi moved into a new house on Broadway, and with the help of Mrs. T. J. Fontelieu, the housemother (better known as "Miz F."), the Sig house was made a very comfortable home away from home. The new Sig house will be completely remodeled during the summer and the brothers are looking forward to a greater year next year.

■ ZETA BETA TAU
 ■ SIGMA CHAPTER

Zeta Beta Tau was founded at the City College of New York in 1898, and Sigma Chapter has enjoyed a prominent position on the Tulane campus since its founding in 1909.

As Sigma Chapter embarks on its second half-century, it looks with pride upon its achievements of the past, with constant endeavor to add to the list. Among the most prominent honors is the distinction of being the first fraternity ever to retire the Pan-Hellenic Trophy. This year the fraternity again made a very creditable name for itself, placing in many of the inter-fraternity events. The will of the membership was exhibited again this year in its full-fledged support of many philanthropic projects.

Since Sigma has gained quite a fine reputation as a social fraternity, it left no stone unturned in upholding this tradition. After a series of exceptionally successful Rush Week parties, the feature events of the year moved into the limelight—headlined by such affairs as the Roman Party, and the Dream Girl Formal. Climaxing one of Sigma's finest social years was its annual Spring Climaxing one of Sigma's finest social years was its annual Spring Formal at the Roosevelt Hotel, which featured the first appearance on the Tulane Campus of the Drifters.

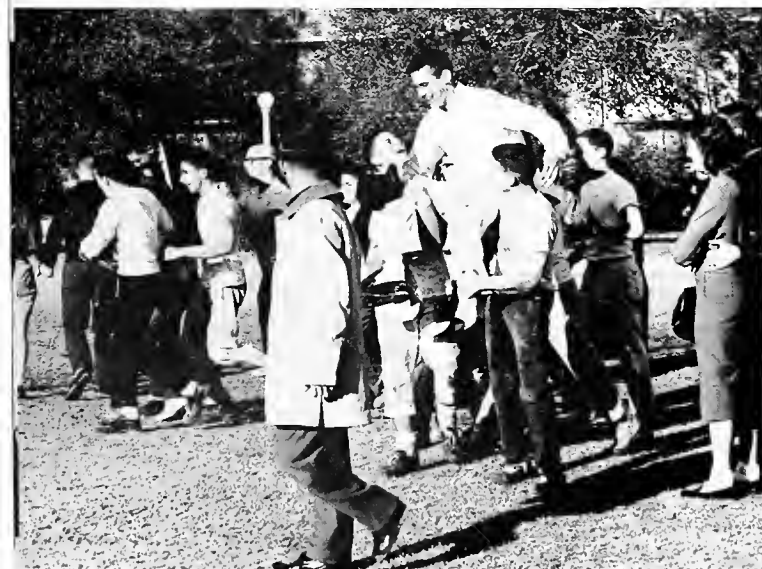

Sigma had, as usual, its share of campus personalities. Among them were: Charles Berk, Business Manager of the JAMBALAYA; Lenny Hoffman, "Hullabaloo" Business Manager; Bob Behrendt, Vice-President of the University Center; Buddy Pollak, President of Tusk; and Dick Shenk and Marc Peterzell, Vice-Presidents of Business Administration and Arts and Sciences Colleges, respectively. Added to this list, ZBT saw many of its members in the JAMBALAYA Hall of Fame, on the varsity golf and tennis teams, and as class, Honor Board, and university-wide organizations officers.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Delta Sigma Phi originated at City College of New York in 1899. Seventeen years later the Chi chapter came into existence at Tulane.

Fun and frolic are well known at the Delta Sig House. Such parties as the Sailors' Ball, Coronation Ball and the Bayou Party will long be thought of by the members as a good time had by all.

Campus activities were enthusiastically participated in by Delta Sigs. George Meyer served as sub-chairman of the Music Committee, and Bob Altenhofen as Secretary of the newly formed Fraternity Bowling League. This year's Tusk members are Ken Mills and Edson Davis. Bob Altenhofen represents Delta Sig in Greenbackers. Other active campus workers are Bob Stassi, a member of Eta Sigma Phi and an Adelpheus representative, Bert Darrah and Ron Jacobs as Alpha Phi Omega men.

The watchword of Delta Sigma is "Engineered Leadership." The National Interfraternity Conference considers Delta Sig a fast growing national group excelling in leadership and scholarship.

TAU EPSILON PHI

On May 18, 1959, after a unanimously favorable recommendation from the Pan-Hellenic Judiciary Committee, Tau Epsilon Phi became Tulane University's sixteenth social fraternity. Epsilon Kappa Chapter was originated in December, 1956, and after being on the Tulane campus as a colony for the required probationary period, they received their national charter and purchased their first chapter house.

Rush Week went off well for Epsilon Kappa with their newly redecorated house as the center of all activities.

This year Tau Epsilon Phi had a very successful social season, including the Swimming Party, Anniversary Party, Playboy Party, and the Sweetheart Formal.

On the campus, Tau Epsilon Phi's members have been active in many extra-curricular activities, including T.U.T., Campus Nite, Greenbacker, Tusk, Pre-Med and Law societies. This past year TEP won the scholarship trophy for the most improved fraternity average. Off campus the fraternity has been active in welfare drives and in giving parties for various orphanages.

Tau Epsilon Phi closes their first year and looks forward to many more successful years on the Tulane campus.

ADELPHONS

Founded at Tulane in 1949, the Order of AdelpHons seeks to promote goodwill among Greeks and provide service to the University. Sometimes called a "fraternity of fraternities," the organization is composed of three men from each fraternity on campus. Their service activities are channeled toward ushering at Symphony Concerts, Convocation, and Commencement. The Order also adds several dates to the University social calendar.

MEDICAL INTER-FRATERNITY

For many years at Tulane the Medical Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of the representatives from each of the medical school fraternities, has been in existence. The council presently has eight members: the president and one delegate from each of the four organizations.

In the past, the council was not very active but was more of an honorary society. However, the year 1960 saw the beginning of a completely revised council, one that took an active part in supervising the activities of the medical fraternities.

One of the main purposes of the council is to promote better interfraternity relationships. The functions of the committee have also resulted in lending harmony to the many and varied activities taking place throughout the year.

On the social side, this council sponsored the annual Cadaver Ball, the highlight of the year's social calendar. The entire student body was invited to this affair, which promises to become a tradition on the Tulane campus. In addition, the council schedules all of the medical fraternity rush parties during rush week.

In its first year, this group has had tremendous success and has done an outstanding job. In the future we look to this group for continued leadership and guidance on the Tulane campus.

This year's social activities began with the annual Rush Week Banquet held at the New Orleans Country Club. The Lawn Party, Homecoming Cocktail Party, Christmas Dance, and Spring Picnic were highlights of this year's social calendar.

The annual Rudolph Matas Lectureship and Banquet was held in the Spring. The guest speaker was Dr. L. R. Dragstedt, Professor of Experimental Medicine at the University of Florida Medical School. Dr. Dragstedt's paper was discussed by Dr. Alton Ochsner, Sr., Professor of Surgery at the Tulane School of Medicine. The Preceptorship Program initiated by this chapter was held again this year. The year was closed with a buffet dinner for the graduating members and their parents.

Among Nu Sigma Nu's distinguished alumni, this chapter holds Dr. Rudolph Matas, one of the country's most outstanding physicians; Dr. Harold Cummins, head of the Tulane Dept. of Anatomy; Dr. Alton Ochsner, retired head of the Tulane department of Pediatrics; and Dr. Robert Heath, head of the Tulane Department of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Phi Chi Medical Fraternity was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889. Omicron, founded at the Tulane School of Medicine in 1902, was the sixth chapter chartered by the national fraternity. The chapter house, known as the "Rock," takes its place among the stately homes along famous St. Charles Avenue and contains the C. Jeff Miller Library of which the fraternity is exceedingly proud.

Members of Phi Chi are active in all phases of the medical school curriculum. Included among the officers of the medical student body are Jap Becker, President; Bob Russell, Vice-President; Dick Reina, Vice-President of the Sr. Class; Hugh Nickerson, Vice-President of the Jr. Class; Goodwin Espy, President of the Sophomore Class; and Maunsel Pearce, Vice-President of the the Freshman Class. Phi Chi is well represented from each class in the Owl Club, Honor Council, Alpha Omega Alpha and Who's Who in American Colleges. Orris had all of the outdoorsmen working in the yard at the beginning of the year while "Sam-Dog" Crawford patrolled the interior endeavors. These efforts, in addition to the excellent rush program organized by Brother Rivas and the whole-hearted cooperation of all the brothers resulted in one of the most outstanding pledge classes assembled in the history of America.

The Phi Chi social calendar is well balanced with a reveling-ridden party each month as well as a Winter Formal, Spring Formal, and the renowned South Sea Island Party in the Spring.

The program of the fraternity is so designed that each individual brother can attain maximum achievements in the medical arts through working, studying, and relaxing together in a spirit of unity and brotherhood.

ALPHA KAPPA KAPPA

Alpha Beta of Alpha Kappa Kappa was founded at Tulane University Medical School in 1903, thus being one of the oldest chapters. The chapter fraternity house, which has recently undergone extensive renovation and redecoration, is at 4020 St. Charles Avenue. At present, there are sixty-one active members. The President of the active body is Rodney M. "Pete" Patterson. Alpha Beta also boasts a large and active Alumni body of over six-hundred practicing physicians, many of which have achieved widespread recognition in their chosen fields. The President of this body is Dr. Joseph V. Schlosser, who has attained international prominence in his field of Therapeutic Radiation.

Fraternity activities include the publishing of "Alpha Beta News," an alumni newsletter, three times a year, and the annual presentation of Outstanding Senior and Freshman Scholastic Awards. Alpha Beta's social calendar is a very active one, the highlights of which are an informal dance for the pledges, Christmas and Spring formals, a spring garden party, a Senior banquet, and three events staged for Rush Week. The members of Alpha Beta are an active bunch who take great pride in their organization and in the opportunities for fellowship which it affords. They are also proud to announce that Alpha Beta has been selected a host for the 1961 National Convention of A.K.K.

The members of Phi Delta Epsilon

Phi Delta Epsilon, a national medical fraternity, was founded at Cornell University in 1904. The year 1918 brought into being Alpha Iota chapter at Tulane.

Alpha Iota held up its traditional intellectual and professional activities by sponsoring several lectures given to the fraternity by prominent physicians. One of the enlightening lectures was by a renowned surgeon, Dr. Philip Thorett, who spoke at the annual Phi Delta Epsilon Lectureship, a program for the entire profession in New Orleans.

In the field of social government, the Phi D E's have been very active. The year started with the annual rush banquet which netted a fine group of pledges. The month of October found the brothers "hooting and hollering" at their square dance, followed in December by a bowling party. The Fountainbleau motel was the scene of the annual Initiation Formal. This event was the highlight of the social year for Phi Delta Epsilon as all who attended will attest.

Those and many other social events of the fraternity brought relief to the brothers in the midst of a crowded medical curriculum, while bringing a sense of unity and brotherhood to the group.

TRIBUTE TO BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY . . .

The JAMBALAYA is one of the most treasured possessions of any Tulane student. It is widely circulated throughout New Orleans and the surrounding area. Many parents, relatives, and prominent alumni read this book along with students. It is our goal to obtain as much financial backing as possible to insure the success of the JAMBALAYA.

As students, how can we show our appreciation to our friends in business and industry, whose enthusiastic support has made this book possible? The answer is simple: PATRONIZE THESE ADVERTISERS!!! Give these people your business when you buy. You'll find them courteous, friendly, and a pleasure to do business with. They have proved their trust in us, so let's reciprocate and help them out.

We have enjoyed contributing to the success of the 1960 JAMBALAYA. It is the best ever; if you have enjoyed it, we hope that you will show it through our advertisers.

Owner of Arnaud's Restaurant, daughter of the late Count Arnaud, founder of the restaurant that bears his name, as well as creator of many famous Creole and French dishes famed throughout the world.

ARNAUD'S—Selected the best restaurant of the South for the 2000th anniversary of the founding of the City of Paris.

Few are the people who set foot on the sidewalk of New Orleans who do not seek to learn the location of Arnaud's and forthwith journey there to enjoy this famous cuisine. After partaking of a notable meal, guests frequently ask the derivation of a particular dish: "Is it French?" "Is it Spanish?" The answer is that it is a combination of the wizardry of the French with the art of Spanish to make Arnaud's masterpieces.
